OR

JOURNAL OF THE NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION.

VOL. III.—No. 24.]

APRIL 1ST, 1857.

[PRICE 2D.

AT the Annual General Meeting of the NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION, held at the London Tavern on Thursday, the 19th day of March, 1857,

His Grace the DUKE of NORTHUMBERLAND, K.G., F.R.S., in the Chair,

The following Report of the Committee was read:—

ANNUAL REPORT.

THE Committee of Management of the Royal National Life-Boat Institution have once more the satisfaction to present to its supporters, and to the public, the customary Annual Report of their proceedings, and Record of the present position and circumstances of the Society.

It is with heartfelt gratitude, that the Committee have to report the continued and rapid progress which the Institution has made during the past twelve months, and which it is still making. A steady and uniform progress, whether as regards the number and efficiency of its Life-boat Establishments; the number of human lives it has been instrumental to save; or, what may be in general fairly considered an index of efficiency, a progress in public estimation, as evinced by public support.

If, indeed, the Committee be allowed to accept this latter substantial evidence of public favour as a criterion of the utility and success of their labours, they must receive, therefrom, the most ample reward for their past exertions, and encouragement to a zealous continuance of them; for in no previous year of the Society's existence has it received so large an amount of pecuniary public aid.

By means of that aid, and the continued important grant from the Board of Trade, the Institution has been enabled, during the past year, to build several new life-boats, carriages, and boat-houses, and to maintain its increased scale of payments and awards to the coxswains and crews of its life-boats, and to others who have exerted themselves to save lives from shipwreck.

Relying on the continued support of the British public to this Institution, which is now every year assuming more of a national character, the Committee have undertaken to add several new life-boat establishments to those it now possesses.

The Committee are thankful to be able to report a continued immunity from accident to the life-boats of the Institution, and that their crews have, as hitherto, the utmost confidence in their safety and efficiency.

The following statistical returns will show the extent of the Society's operations, under various heads:—

Life-Boats.—During the past year new life-boats have been built for Drogheda and Dundrum Bay in Ireland; and for Dungeness, Padstow, Bideford, Walmer, and Hornsea, on the English coasts; whilst others are in course of construction for Arklow, Cahore, Kilmore, Youghal, and Ballycotton in Ireland; for Camber in Sussex; for Seaton Carew in Durham; and for Penmon in the Island of Anglesea. Boats are also ready to be furnished to Westport and to Wicklow in Ireland.

The life-boats belonging to, and in connection with, the Institution have, since the last Report, saved the crews of the following vessels, and have proceeded to the assistance of many others in reply to signals of distress:—

Reliance , of London . . . .	15

Carriages.—New carriages have been built during the past year for Almouth, Hornsea, Dungeness, Lyme Regis, Sennen, Padstow, Bideford, Fishguard, and Rhyl, in England; and for Dundrum Bay and Kilmore, in Ireland. Others are also building for Walmer, Arklow, Cahore, and Youghal. The Committee have spared no pains to improve and increase the efficiency of these valuable adjuncts to a life-boat establishment.

Boat-Houses.—New boat-houses have been built during the past year at Rye, Walmer, Rhyl, Castletown, Drogheda, and Westport. Others are also in course of erection at Eastbourne, Camber, Wicklow, Arklow, Cahore, Kilmore, and Youghal.

Local Committees.—The Committee continue to receive the invaluable co-operation of the local honorary committees who have undertaken the superintendence of the life-boat establishments in their several localities.

Shipwrecks.—From the elaborate and interesting Return of the Wrecks and Casualties which occurred on and near the coasts of the United Kingdom during the past year, presented by the Board of Trade to Parliament, it appears that the total number of wrecks in that period was 1,153. About one-half of that number took place, as usual, on the east coast, thus showing, in the most striking manner, the great want of available harbours of refuge on that part of the coast.

The loss of lives from shipwreck during the past year was 521. Although this number is considerably less than has occurred in previous years, with the exception of the year 1855, when the number was 469, it is yet lamentably large; and the Committee feel persuaded that, in future years, if the present vigorous exertions that are now being made are sustained and increased, this loss of human life on our coasts will be still further considerably reduced.

“The sacrifice of human life and the loss of property which are crowded into this sad record are not, perhaps, understood by the casual reader, but are keenly realized in many a home throughout these islands and in many a house of business. The foundering of the vessel amidst the wild tumult of the elements—the wreck beaten into staves on a lee shore—the terrible collision on the watery highway, when one or, perhaps, both vessels sink with their living freight and costly cargo, perhaps to rise no more—such incidents as these are recorded, it may be, in a brief line or two, yet what a volume of loss and of anguish are embraced in the few words in which each tale is told!”

It is, however, gratifying to find that the number of lives saved from shipwreck during the past year has been unprecedentedly large.

In the year 1855, the lives of no less than 1,388 were rescued from shipwreck on the coasts and in the seas of the British Isles; but last year that number was increased to 2,243—a most satisfactory result, and affording a striking proof of what may be accomplished in this work of humanity by co-operation, by exertion, and by the skilful and courageous use of all the means that are available for the preservation of life from shipwreck. The means by which this large number of lives were saved was as follows:—

By life-boats . . . . .	362
By luggers, coastguard-boats, and small craft. . . . .	1,184
By assistance from shore with ropes, mortar apparatus, &c.	407
By ships and steam-vessels .	262
By individual exertion of a meritorious character. . .	28
Total . . . . .	2,243

The total number of persons saved from shipwreck since the first establishment of this Institution, for rescuing whom the Committee have granted honorary and pecuniary rewards, is shown in the following list:—

Who can contemplate this large number of lives saved from a watery grave without heartfelt satisfaction! And to those who have directly, by their individual exertions, or to others who have indirectly, by their subscriptions, contributed to that happy result, that satisfaction must be greatly enhanced.

Rewards for saving life.—The frequency of wrecks brings with it, as usual, corresponding gallant and laudable exertions to save life; and many have been these acts during the past year of individual daring, which have not only called forth the acknowledgments of the National Life-Boat Institution, but have also, from the publicity given to them by the press, elicited the admiration of the public at large.

During the past year the Institution has awarded 21 silver medals, and 18 honorary testimonials inscribed on vellum. It has also voted 462*l.* in pecuniary rewards to persons who have saved or endeavoured to save lives from wrecks. Through the valuable assistance of the Board of Trade the Society has been enabled to continue its advanced scale of pecuniary rewards, which, the Committee believe, has been attended with the best results. Sensible of the importance of a judicious and impartial distribution of the funds applied to this object, the Committee have devoted much and careful attention to the subject; and they have in no instance granted either pecuniary or honorary rewards without minute inquiry into the circumstances attending the service performed. In this, as in other respects, they have been materially assisted by the Comptroller-General, Deputy Comptroller-General, and the officers of Her Majesty's Coast Guard Service. In granting these rewards, the Committee have endeavoured, as far as possible, to proportion them in each case to the degree of risk incurred and intrepidity displayed.

The operations of the Committee may be thus briefly stated:—Since the establishment of the Institution in 1824, 79 gold medallions and 577 silver medals for distinguished services have been voted for saving life, besides pecuniary rewards, amounting together to 10,121*l.*

Finances.—From the annexed financial statement of the income and expenditure of the National Life-boat Institution during the past year, it will be seen that 2,637*l.* have been expended in the building, repairing, fittings, exercising, &c. of life-boats; 1,053*l.* on life-boat carriages; 690*l.* on life-boat houses; 490*l.* on rewards and medals for saving life from shipwreck: these being the principal and legitimate objects of the Institution. The total expenditure having been 5,710*l.*, while the receipts of the society, exclusive of the grant of 2,216*l.* 13*s.* 2*d.* from the Board of Trade, have been 2,767*l.* The liabilities of the Institution for life-boats, carriages, and boat-houses are still 2,760*l.* It will thus be seen that the Committee have spared no efforts to carry out fully the truly philanthropic objects of the Institution.

The Committee would, however, call attention to the fact that, notwithstanding so much has been done by the Institution, more still remains to be accomplished; and they sincerely trust, that the detailed account herein given of the pecuniary necessities of the Society and of its proceedings will induce the public at large to extend to it their assistance. In exemplification of what has been done, the Committee would draw attention to the circumstance that, since the year 1852, it has built and stationed no less than thirty-six new life-boats, and several new carriages, and for most of them it has erected new and substantial boat-houses; whilst, above all, in consequence of the superior character of the new boats, the care which the Society has evinced to supply their crews with every available security to their own persons, and the encouragement which the higher scale of payments and rewards has afforded them, it has secured the willing and efficient services of the boatmen on the coast, who have perfect confidence both in their life-boats and in the Institution which employs them.

The Committee would desire to refer with gratitude to the munificent legacy to the Institution of 10,000*l.* by the late Captain HAMILTON FITZGERALD, R.N., a previous liberal contributor to the funds of the Society, and one of its Vice-Presidents. They would observe that Captain FITZGERALD has in no way restricted the application of his bequest; but the Committee, deeply sensible of the confidence he has reposed in them, and desirous to carry out fully his humane object, have decided to expend the whole amount of his legacy, if necessary, in placing life-boats on every point of the coast where it can be shown, first, that one is wanted in consequence of the frequency of wrecks in the locality; secondly, that an efficient crew can be found to man the boat; thirdly, that some local contributions will be raised to assist to pay for the erection of a boat-house, and the permanent maintenance of the life-boat station. The cost of a life-boat establishment, including boat, transporting-carriage, and boat-house, varies from 300*l.* to 400*l.* To this decision of the Committee the attention of influential persons on the coast is particularly requested.

The Committee wish to draw attention to three gifts of a special character during the past year.

The first is that of 160*l.* 17*s.*—the cost of a first-class life-boat, contributed by some members of the Royal Thames Yacht Club: This life-boat has been stationed at Walmer, near Deal. She has already rescued, during a dark tempestuous night on the 5th of January last, 15 persons from the barque Reliance, of London.

The second is that of 150*l.*—being the value of a life-boat from a previous liberal contributor to the Institution, Mrs. ANN WOOD, of Eltham. This life-boat is stationed at Hornsea, near Hull.

The third is that of 180*l.*—being the cost of a first-class life-boat, her gear, and life-belts for her crew, from WM. M<sup>C</sup>KERRELL, Esq., of Hillhouse, Ayrshire. This life-boat the Committee have decided to station, with Mr. M<sup>C</sup>KERRELL's approval, at Seaton Carew, at the mouth of the river Tees.

On any lives being rescued from shipwreck by either of these life-boats, these generous donors will have the peculiar satisfaction of feeling that the same had been the result of their individual gift to the Institution.

Amongst the other liberal contributors to the Institution during the past year, the Committee would refer to the subscription of 25*l.* from the East India Company; a third donation of 105*l.* from the Royal Exchange Assurance Corporation; a second donation of 105*l.* from the London Assurance Corporation; 50*l.* from the late Vice-Admiral Sir Joshua R. Rowley, Bart.; 50*l.* from the late Earl of Ellesmere, K.G., V.P., which was sent by him only a few weeks before his much-lamented death; from the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company 10*l.* annually; the Marine Insurance Company 50*l.*; T. N. Hunt, Esq., 50*l.*; and from that valuable sister institution, the Shipwrecked Fishermen and Mariners' Royal Benevolent Society, a fifth donation of 100*l.*, chiefly collected in small sums from its members towards the placing life-boats on the coast.

In conclusion, the Committee, while gratefully acknowledging the liberal support extended to the Society, appeal again with continued confidence to the public for assistance to enable them to carry out fully the truly benevolent and national objects of the Institution, in the prosperity of which they believe all classes of the community cannot fail to take a deep interest. The Committee, moreover, feel assured that an Institution, which in addition to having granted rewards for rescuing 473 persons from shipwrecks during the past year, whose life-boats have, in the same period, been the means, under God, of snatching 129 of our fellow-creatures from a watery grave—an Institution which has had its origin in the purest philanthropy, and which is so truly Christian in its character, has only to make its claims extensively known to be fully appreciated and liberally responded to by the affluent and humane throughout the land.

The Committee feel that it would be unbecoming in them to conclude this report of their proceedings during the past year—a year in which their humble exertions have been so pre-eminently crowned with success—did they not publicly acknowledge with thankfulness the goodness of that Divine Being whose blessing has so signally rested on their labours.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED AT THE ANNUAL MEETING FOR 1857.

Moved by Rear-Admiral the Earl TALBOT, C.B., and seconded by MONTAGUE GORE, Esq.,—

1. That the Report now read be adopted and circulated.

Moved by Captain JOHN SHEPHERD, H.C.S., Deputy-Master of the Trinity House, and seconded by WILLIAM COTTON, F.R.S., late Governor of the Bank of England,—

2. That this Meeting has heard, with peculiar satisfaction, of the success which has attended the humane operations of the National Life-Boat Institution during the past year, and the gratifying fact, that, in the same period, 2,243 persons were rescued by life-boats, shore-boats, and other means, from shipwrecks, on the shores and in the seas of the British Isles—facts which should call forth the acknowledgments of the community at large, as showing most satisfactorily what can be accomplished in this good work by sustained and well-directed efforts.

That this Meeting does therefore pledge itself to use its best exertions to maintain and extend the operations of the National Life-Boat Institution, whose claims urgently appeal to every one for support.

Moved by J. D. POWLES, Esq., and seconded by Captain WASHINGTON, R.N., F.R.S., Hydrographer of the Admiralty,—

3. That the thanks of this Meeting be given to the President of the Board of Trade, and to the Marine Department of that Board, for the important and cordial aid afforded by the Board to the National Life-Boat Institution. Also to the Comptroller-General, the Deputy-Comptroller-General, and the Officers and men of Her Majesty's Coastguard service, for their continued valuable assistance to the Society.

Moved by Admiral Sir THOMAS COCHRANE, K.C.B., and seconded by Captain RAVEN, R.N.,—

4. That this Meeting tenders its cordial thanks to THOMAS BARING, Esq., M.P., the Chairman, to THOMAS CHAPMAN, Esq., F.R.S., the Deputy-Chairman, and to the other Members of the Committee of Management, for the care and attention with which they have administered the important affairs of the Institution.

Also to the honorary Local Committees of the several Branches of the Institution for their zealous co-operation with the Central Committee in promoting the efficiency of the Life-Boat establishments intrusted to their superintendence and management.

This resolution was responded to on behalf of the Committee by THOMAS CHAPMAN, Esq., Deputy-Chairman, and Chairman for Lloyd's Register of British and Foreign Shipping Society.

Moved by THOMAS BARING, Esq., M.P., and seconded by Captain GEORGE A. HALSTED, R.N., Secretary to Lloyd's,—

5. That the best acknowledgments of this Meeting be given to His Grace the Duke of Northumberland, K.G., for his able conduct in the Chair, and for the kind interest which he continues to take in the prosperity of the Institution.

JESSE, R.N., chief officer of the Coastguard Station, and a crew of 11 men, put off in the Tenby life-boat, which belongs to the National Life-boat Institution, and rescued the crew of 8 men.—Reward, silver medal to Lieut. JESSE, R.N., and 16*l.* 10*s.* to the crew.

Dec. 18.—The brigantine Isabella, of Newport, was wrecked during a heavy gale of wind on the rocks off Kilmore Coastguard Station, county Wexford. DENNIS DONOVAN, chief boatman of the station, with 3 of his crew, put off in a boat, and at considerable risk of life, rescued 5 of the crew.—Reward, silver medal to DENNIS DONOVAN. The 4 men had received 10*l.* from the owners.

Dec. 18.—The brig Eliza, of Montrose, drove from her anchors during a heavy gale of wind, and struck on a sand-bank near Great Yarmouth. The Gorleston life-boat, manned by 18 men, put off, and rescued the crew of 8 men. The vessel, shortly after the crew were taken off, went to pieces. The life-boat belongs to the boatmen of the village, which they had recently succeeded in placing on this important station, through their own contributions, aided by a grant of 50*l.* from the National Life-boat Institution.—Reward, 9*l.* to the crew of the life-boat.

Dec. 18, 1855.—Two persons were captured from their boat near Dangan, on the coast of Galway, during a gale of wind. A boat manned by 7 men put off at considerable risk to their rescue.—Reward, 7*l.*

Dec. 18.—The brigantine Philippa was wrecked on the Milton Sands, near Dumfries: a boat manned by 7 men put off and rescued the crew of 5 men.—Reward, in addition to a local subscription, 2*l.*

Dec. 23.—The brig Eliza Lomer, of Sunderland, became a total wreck during a gale of wind near Camber, Rye, Coastguard Station. The crew were rescued by chief officer Mr. WILLIAM BYFORD, R.N., and his crew of 2 men. The master and crew of the Rye Harbour Commissioners' steam-tug also put off on the occasion, with the view of rendering assistance.—Reward, the thanks of the Committee to Mr. BYFORD, and 10*l.* to be divided between his crew of 2 men and the master and crew of the steam-tug.

Dec. 24.—The French brig Charlotte was stranded during a gale of wind, near Harlech, on the Carnarvon coast. Mr. JOHN ROBERTS, of Clogwyn, and 2 other men, waded into the surf, and saved 4 out of 8 of the crew.—Reward, silver medal to Mr. ROBERTS, and 2*l.* to the 2 other men.

men, in which humane enterprise they fortunately succeeded. The yawl's men had signalled the Pakefield life-boat to come off to the schooner, but before her arrival at the scene of danger the schooner had gone to pieces.—Reward, 4*l.*

The object of this Institution, as declared in its title, is to rescue wrecked persons around the coasts of the United Kingdom.

The chief means by which it is endeavoured to carry this object into effect are:—

To build, station, and maintain in repair, Life-boats of the most perfect description; to furnish them with all necessary appurtenances, including houses to preserve them in, and carriages for their conveyance to the spots where their services are called for; and further, to provide, through the instrumentality of Local Committees, for their proper management and the occasional exercise of their crews.

To confer honorary rewards in the form of medals and votes of thanks, and also to grant pecuniary remuneration to all persons who, at the risk of their own lives, save, or attempt to save, those of others on board vessels wrecked, or in distress, upon any part of the coast of the United Kingdom. The honorary rewards being extended, in striking cases, to similar services in other parts of the world.

As an index of the necessity for the provision of such a machinery as the above, it may be stated—that the average loss of lives from shipwreck on the shores of the United Kingdom is between 500 and 600 per annum.

Donations and Annual Subscriptions will be thankfully received by Messrs. WILLIS, PERCIVAL, and Co., 76, Lombard Street, Bankers to the Institution; Messrs. HERRIES, FARQUHAR, and Co., 16, St. James's Street; Messrs. COURTS and Co., 59, Strand; LONDON and COUNTY BANK, 21, Lombard Street; by all the London and Country Bankers; by the several Metropolitan Army and Navy Agents; and by the Secretary at the Office of the Institution, 14, JOHN STREET, ADELPHI, London.

Payments may be made by cheques (crossed), or by Post-office Orders, to Messrs. WILLIS, PERCIVAL, and Co.; or to the Secretary.
