STAMPED 3D.

AT the Annual General Meeting of the NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION, held at the London Tavern on Thursday, the 10th day of April, 1856,

THOMAS CHAPMAN, Esq., F.R.S., Deputy-Chairman of the Institution, and Chairman of Lloyd's Register of British and Foreign Shipping Society, in the Chair,

The following Report of the Committee was read :—

ANNUAL REPORT.

The Committee of Management of the ROYAL NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION have the honour to present to its friends and the public the Annual Report of their proceedings.

In their last Report they drew attention to the important changes which had then recently taken place in the affairs and working of the Institution, namely, its change of title—the transfer to it of the life-boats, &c., of the Shipwrecked Fishermen and Mariners' Royal Benevolent Society—and the assistance afforded by the Board of Trade in aid of the voluntary contributions of the public; by which latter the Society had until that period been solely supported.

The Committee have the satisfaction to report that they have not been disappointed in their expectations of the advantages which would accrue from each of the above changes. The alteration of the title of the Institution, and the transfer to it of the life-boats of the Shipwrecked Fishermen and Mariners' Society, have, to a great extent, removed the confusion in the public mind in respect to the objects of the two Societies, and secured to this Institution the cordial co-operation of that excellent Society; whilst the valuable addition of the Board of Trade's pecuniary aid, has in no degree led to a diminution of public support.

The assistance afforded by the latter has been productive of the most beneficial results. It has enabled the Institution to devote its funds to increasing the number of its Life-boat Establishments, and to add to the efficiency of those previously in connection with it. By ensuring a higher rate of payments and awards to the coxswains and crews of its life-boats and to others who adventure their lives to rescue shipwrecked persons, a more zealous and energetic spirit has been awakened in the seamen round our coast, and new life has been instilled into the whole machinery in use for saving lives from shipwreck.

The Committee can indeed with confidence report that at no period since its foundation has the Institution been in such a practically-efficient condition, or has it had a more satisfactory prospect of usefulness before it.

Life-Boats.—During the past year branches of the Institution have been formed at Padstow, in Cornwall; Drogheda, Ireland; at Rye, in Sussex; and at Castle-town, in the Isle of Man—and life-boats complete with carriages and all necessary gear, are now ready, and about to be supplied to them. A new 30 feet life-boat has been stationed at Hauxley, in Northumberland, in lieu of the one previously placed there, which was too heavy for the locality, and which has been removed to Bridlington. A tubular life-boat, 32 feet long, on the plan of Messrs. RICHARDSON, of Bala, North Wales, has been built, at a cost of 200*l.*, by Mr. LEES, of Manchester, and stationed at Rhyl, instead of the life-boat previously there. A new life-boat, 40 feet long, at a cost of 200*l.*, has also been stationed at Southwold. Four of the life-boats transferred to the Institution from the Shipwrecked Fishermen and Mariners' Society, and the Dover life-boat, have had their fittings altered at an expense of nearly 100*l.* each.

The life-boats in connection with the Institution have, during the past year, been the means of saving the crews of the following vessels:—

Mar. 16	Southern Cross , of Liverpool . . .	17
Mar. 21	Albion , of Weymouth . . .	7
Oct. 30	Hebe , of Wisbeach . . .	6
Nov. 3	Corregio , of Poole . . .	9
Nov. 2	Louisa , of Newhaven . . .	9
Dec. 18	Eliza , of Montrose . . .	7
Dec. 20	Alexandre , of Nantes . . .	5
Dec. 20	Agenoria , of Bideford . . .	3
Dec. 27	William , of Norway . . .	12
	Total . . .	75

In addition to the above-named services, the life-boats of the Society have, during the same period, put off to many vessels which had made signals of distress, but which, before the arrival of the life-boats, had got out of danger or declined their services.

Carriages.—Four life-boat carriages have been built during the past year. One has been furnished to Appledore, North Devon; one is about to be sent to Dungeness; a third to Fishguard; and a fourth to Rye Harbour Station.

Several more carriages are required by different boats, which will be supplied as the funds of the Institution may admit.

Two new descriptions of carriage have been adopted, from designs furnished by the Life-boat Inspector; the one, a two-wheeled carriage, carries the boat suspended under the axle of the wheels, which is cranked upwards; it is of light and simple construction. The other, also two-wheeled, carries the boat above the axle of the wheels, and is also of a simple and light character. It is furnished with BOYDELL and GLASIER'S patent self-laying endless railway, and is chiefly intended for stations where the boat has not to travel a great distance, and where it will generally be drawn by men instead of by horse-power.

Boat-houses.—Boat-houses have been built during the past year, at Penzance and Fishguard, and others are in course of construction at Drogheda, and at Castletown; the former is being constructed by the liberality of the Drogheda Harbour Commissioners.

Local Committees.—From the greater number of the Honorary Local Committees, the Institution continues to receive invaluable and energetic aid, alike by their zealous collection of local pecuniary support, and by their general satisfactory management of the several life-boat establishments under their charge.

Shipwrecks.—By the Abstract of Wrecks and Casualties for 1855, presented by the Board of Trade to Parliament, it appears that no less than 1,141 wrecks occurred on the coasts of the United Kingdom; about one-half of that number took place on the east coast of Great Britain. The loss of life from shipwreck, during the same period, was, however, comparatively small, being only 469, or less than one-third of the loss of the preceding year, and considerably less than took place in any former year of which we have a record.

As the number of lives lost from shipwreck in different years, is of a very fluctuating character, depending on many different causes, it would perhaps be premature to assign the decrease of the present year wholly, or even chiefly, to the salutary effects of the Merchant Shipping Act of 1854, yet it may fairly be considered that a portion of that decrease is attributable to it, and it may reasonably be hoped that a permanent diminution of loss of ships, and of lives, will be manifested in future years as its consequence.

The number of lives reported as saved from wrecked vessels, was:—

By luggers and other small craft	439
By assistance from shore with ropes, mortar apparatus, &c.	399
By ships and steam-vessels	290
By life-boats	251
By individual exertion of a meritorious character	9

Total 1,388

The large number of lives thus saved from a watery grave is most gratifying; and particularly so to the Committee (some of whom have laboured unceasingly in the duties of the Institution for upwards of thirty years), the more so as this Society has granted honorary and pecuniary rewards for meritorious services in its life-boats and other boats for rescuing 406 lives during the past nine months.

Rewards.—During the past nine months, the Committee have awarded ten silver medals, seventeen honorary testimonials inscribed on vellum, and have granted 303*l.* in pecuniary rewards to parties who have saved, or endeavoured to save, lives from shipwreck. Through the aid of the Board of Trade, the Institution has been enabled to make its pecuniary grants on a more liberal scale than formerly, which the Committee have reason to believe has been attended with the best results. Indeed, they have it on record, that their increased scale of rewards has stimulated fishermen and others on the coast, to make extraordinary efforts in their boats to rescue their fellow-creatures from the appalling death which apparently awaited them.

The total number of persons saved from shipwreck since the first establishment of this Institution, and for rescuing whom the Committee have granted honorary and pecuniary rewards, is shown in the following list:—

The operations of the Committee may be thus briefly stated:—Since the establishment of the Institution in 1824, 79 gold medallions and 556 silver medals for distinguished services have been voted for saving life, besides pecuniary rewards, amounting together to 9,631*l.*

Publications.—The periodical called the Life-Boat Journal, which is published under the auspices of the Institution once a quarter, continues to be circulated by the Committee. No effort has been spared to make it as instructive and interesting as the nature of the subjects discussed in its columns would admit. The useful information connected with life-boats and the means of saving life, which each number contains, has, by being copied into the newspapers and other periodicals, tended greatly to incite an interest in the objects of the Institution.

Finances.—In the annexed statement of the Income and Expenditure of the Institution, from the 1st April to the 31st December last, it will be seen that 2,045*l.* has been laid out in the building, repairing, fittings, and exercising of life-boats; 546*l.* on life-boat carriages; 187*l.* on life-boat houses; 339*l.* on rewards and medals for saving life from shipwreck; being the principal and legitimate objects of the Institution. The total expenditure having been 3,726*l.*—while the whole income from all sources did not exceed 2,035*l.* To meet so large an expenditure on life-boats and their appurtenances, as particularized above, the Committee have not hesitated to incur large liabilities, which, with a balance from the previous year's accounts, amounted on the 1st January to 3,065*l*.

This large item has since that period been reduced by the sale of 1,200*l*., from the small funded capital of the Institution, and by the receipt of several liberal contributions. Still it must be evident that, if the Society is to maintain its present high position as one of the most important and useful of our national Institutions, the aid of the benevolent will further be urgently required.

The Committee venture to trust that the detailed account of the pecuniary state of the Institution, and of its proceedings herein given during the past nine months, will show that its funds have been judiciously administered, and that the amount of good it has accomplished has realized the expectations of its friends and supporters. In exemplification of what has been done, the Committee would draw attention to the circumstance, that in the year 1851, the Society possessed only about a dozen life-boats, most of which were old and imperfectly equipped, and the crews unprovided with life-belts; whilst, at the present moment, it possesses 48 life-boats, for the most part perfectly equipped (although several of them are as yet without carriages), and the whole of the crews are provided with the best description of life-belts, on which important item alone the Society has expended since the time above quoted not less than 250*l*. Since the year 1852, it has built no less than 23 new life-boats, and several new carriages, and for most of them it has erected new and substantial boat-houses; whilst, above all, in consequence of the superior character of the new boats, the care which the Society has evinced to supply their crews with every available security to their own persons, and the encouragement which the higher scale of payments and rewards has afforded them, it has secured the willing and efficient services of the boatmen on the coast, who have perfect confidence both in their life-boats and in the Institution which employs them.

Notwithstanding, however, that so much has been accomplished, more yet remains to be done, to enable them to effect which, the Committee trust to continue to receive the liberal aid of the public. No less than 14 life-boats have yet to be supplied with carriages, and some with boathouses.

The Committee desire to refer to the following munificent contributions which the Institution has received since the last report:—John Angerstein, Esq., V.P., 100*l*.; Charles Lombe, Esq., V.P., 100*l*.; the Shipwrecked Fishermen and Mariners' Society (chiefly collected in three-pences from its members and other friends), 300*l*.; the Indemnity Mutual Marine and Insurance Company, third don., 105*l*.; Messrs. Baring, Brothers, and Co., 50*l*., and 5*l*. annually; the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths, second donation, 50*l*.; Messrs. J. R. and A. W. Jaffray, St. Mildred's Court, 20*l*., and 10*l*. annually; Captain Sir Geo. Brooke, Bart., R.N., V.P., 50*l*., and also, in aid of three of its life-boat branches on the Suffolk coast, 15*l*. annually. The Society has this year been deprived, probably by death, of an unknown benefactor's very liberal donation of 30*l*., which, for many years past, has been left for it at the Bankers. It is hoped that his or her noble example will be followed by some other equally generous donor.

The Institution will be benefited by a legacy of 200*l*., left to it by the late B. Coles, Esq., of Tunbridge Wells, payable after the decease of his widow.

The Committee believe that an institution, having for its object "the preservation of lives from shipwreck," has claims which come home to our hearts, and there plead for support and sympathy. It is evident that the augmentation of its pecuniary resources is alone needed to render the operations of the Institution co-extensive with the urgent requirements for life-boats on the coasts; thus assisted, it will be in a position to accomplish, in the fullest measure, the beneficial and sacred objects, for the sake of which it was established now more than 32 years ago; and in the furtherance of which it has hitherto laboured, by the Divine blessing, with no inconsiderable amount of success, for which the Committee desire to be deeply grateful.

REWARDS VOTED BY THE ROYAL NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION,
FROM THE 1ST APRIL TO THE 31ST DECEMBER, 1855.

February 25.—The ship Simoon, of Liverpool, during foggy weather, struck on a sunken rock in St. Bride's Bay. Six men went off to her assistance in a shore boat, and after some difficulty, from the thickness of the fog, they succeeded in making out the ship. She had been abandoned by her crew; but who, on hearing a gun fired from the shore, and probably observing the boat making towards them, returned to their ship, which they regained at the same time as the shore boat. The weather having cleared up, the vessel got off, and proceeded in charge of a pilot to Liverpool.—Reward, 6*l.* to the 6 men.

March 15.—The schooner Young Hunter, of Stranraer, ran ashore on the bar at Whitehorn, North Britain, in a strong S.S.E. gale. Her crew of 5 men were rescued by a boat manned by 5 persons, at considerable risk, through a heavy surf.—Reward, 5*l.*

March 16.—The schooner Elizabeth was driven on shore, in Robin Hood's Bay, Yorkshire, during a heavy snow-squall, and the crew, 7 in number, were saved at 5.30 A.M. by 2 cobbles, manned by 9 men.—Reward, 9*l.*

March 20.—The brig Thomas and Adah was wrecked on the north end of the Goodwin Sands. The Broadstairs life-boat attempted to go off to rescue her crew, but failed; when the men who had manned the life-boat, 11 in number, transferred themselves to the lugger Fame, in which they succeeded, at 3 A.M. of the 21st, at much risk to themselves, in taking 5 of her crew from her rigging in a deplorable state from cold and exposure, from the effects of which one man had already died.—Reward 22*l.*

March. 21.—The brig Good Hope, of Waterford, ran ashore and was wrecked on Helwick Head, in an E.S.E. gale. A boat, manned by 11 fishermen, and SAMUEL PILL, chief boatman of the coastguard, proceeded, at much risk, through a heavy sea to the aid of her crew, consisting of 5 persons, whom they landed in safety.—Reward, 14*l.*

March 26.—A boat was upset amongst the Calf Islands, County Cork. A boat manned by 5 men was launched from the shore, and reached the spot in time to save the life of one man, who had held on to the keel: one man and one woman were unfortunately drowned before their arrival.—Reward, 2*l.* 10*s.*

April 14.—The American ship Joseph Van Votson was wrecked on the Hen and Chickens rocks, Lundy Island, at the entrance of the Bristol Channel. The crew and passengers, 62 in number, had taken to the ship's boats, in which, from the dangerous position they were in, and their crowded state, they would probably all have been lost had they not been discovered at daylight by a small pilot skiff, which with difficulty got them all on board, and conveyed them to Cardiff. Great skill and promptitude were exhibited by the pilot in charge, Mr. BUCK, in stowing away and conveying into port in safety so large a number of persons in a skiff only 30 feet long.—Reward, 2*l.* to Mr. BUCK, and 3*l.* to his crew of 2 men and a boy.

April 16.—A coble was upset off the Black Rocks, near Ballantire, County Donegal, whilst engaged in salmon-fishing. A boat, manned by 4 men, was quickly launched through a heavy surf, and succeeded in saving 3 men; 2 others were drowned.—Reward, 6*l.* to the crew of 4 men.

April 26.—A boat, with 6 persons aboard, was upset by a heavy sea, on Bantham bar, Devon. They were rescued by two fishermen who were near the spot, and rowed instantly to their aid.—Reward, 1*l.*

April 30.—A ferry-boat with 14 persons and some cattle on board was upset at Aust, entrance of the Severn. Six men were rescued on two trips, by JOHN JONES, who proceeded to their assistance in a small punt. Seven persons were drowned before aid could be given them.—Reward, 2*l.*

May 1.—A boat, deeply laden with seaweed, with a crew of 5 men in her, sank near Innisfree Island. It was blowing fresh at the time, with a spring tide. The cries of the men for help having been heard, two boats, manned by 8 men, put off to their assistance, and succeeded in bringing them on shore.—Reward, 2*l*.

May 10.—The schooner Brothers, of Whitby, lying near the beach to discharge her cargo, was driven on shore and totally wrecked, near Dungeness, in a strong gale from S.W. Her crew of 5 persons, and 4 beachmen employed on board her, were rescued through a heavy surf by means of a hawser, life-buoy, and life-lines, by JOHN SCORE, chief boatman of coastguard, and 6 others, at risk to themselves.—Reward, 3*l*. 10*s*.

May 27.—The flat John, of Freckleton, drifted from her anchor at the mouth of the Ribble, and was driven on shore on the Horse-bank. The Lytham life-boat, manned by 11 men, proceeded to the assistance of the crew, who, however, remained by their vessel, which they succeeded in getting off on the following tide, when the weather had moderated.—Reward, 5*l*. 10*s*.

May 29.—A boat laden with seaweed, and with a crew of 2 men and 2 girls, was upset by shipping a sea near Crone Island, County Donegal. One girl was drowned. The 3 others, after holding on to the boat's keel for an hour, were taken off in an exhausted state by 4 men in another boat, who had seen the accident; and, after throwing over half their own cargo of seaweed, rowed with difficulty to the spot.—Reward, 2*l*.

June 9.—A boat was upset when running under sail for Moelfre Harbour, Anglesey. The accident having been seen from Moelfre, her crew of 4 men were rescued by a boat, manned by 6 fishermen, who proceeded to their aid.—Reward, 1*l*. 12*s*. 6*d*.

June 17.—A small boat was observed passing the entrance of the Tweed, and running into a dangerous position, where her loss would have been certain. Dr. F. S. CAHILL, of Berwick, persuaded the master of a small steam-tug to go to her rescue, in which he went himself, with 2 other volunteers, in addition to the master, and 2 men forming the crew of the ferry-boat. The boat was reached just in time to save her and her crew, consisting of one seaman and his wife, from destruction. A heavy sea was on the bar at the time, and the steamer was thrown on her broadside when running over it on her return. The master and crew of the steamer, and the 2 volunteers who accompanied Dr. CAHILL, received 5*l*. each from a subscription raised on the spot to reward them.—Reward, silver medal to Dr. CAHILL.

June 28.—A small boat, under sail, with 2 men on board, was upset in a squall near St. Alban's Head. The accident was observed by a coastguard man from the shore, who promptly, with the assistance of 2 others, launched a punt, and rescued the 2 men, who retained hold of the boat, neither of them being able to swim.—Reward, 1*l*. 10*s*.

July 5.—The master of a smack was knocked overboard by her boom, and partly disabled; his cries for assistance having been heard from the shore, 2 men, in a small canvas boat, or curragh, put off to his aid, and succeeded, at considerable risk to themselves, in rescuing him by getting him into their boat.—Reward, 2*l*.

July 5.—Awarded the silver medal of the Institution to Commander KISBEE, R.N., in testimony of his repeated services, at different periods, in rescuing shipwrecked persons on the Norfolk coast.

August 1.—The long-boat of the barque Venus, of Malta, with 7 men on board, was upset by a sea in Cork Bay, when returning to that vessel from Queenstown. They were with difficulty picked up, in an exhausted state, by a coastguard boat, manned by chief boatman JOHN STARKE, and 4 boatmen. A strong gale and heavy sea was running at the time which prevented them from returning to the shore till the next morning.—Reward, 3*l*. to JOHN STARKE, and 8*l*. to the other 4 men.

August 6.—Four men, employed on the salmon-fishery, at a point about one mile north of Whitburn, Durham, were upset in their boat by a cross sea, as they were returning from floating their nets. One of them tried to cling to the boat, and was drowned. Of the other men, WILLIAM RAE alone could swim, and by his exertions he got his two comrades to a sunken rock, from which the sea washed them off. He then ai-lowed them to cling to his dress, and thus swam with them some distance. One of the men, however, fell off exhausted, but the other, RAE succeeded in bringing to a safe footing in shallow water, where a lady, named ELEANOR GALBRAITH, rushed, at considerable risk, over some rugged and slippery rocks, to their aid. With RAE's assistance the man was brought on shore, nearly dead from exhaustion.—Reward, Silver Medal to Mrs. GALBRAITH and to WILLIAM RAE.

August 17.—The sloop Ann and Susan was seen to strike on the rocks on the north-east end of the Skerries, Anglesey. The Cemlyn life-boat, manned by 5 men, four miles distant, immediately proceeded to her assistance, but the crew of the sloop had succeeded in landing on the Skerries in their own boat.—Reward, 2*l.* 10*s.*

August 24.—The American ship John Bright, was seen to strike on the Mizen Head Banks, County Wicklow, Ireland. A fishing smack, manned by 18 men, proceeded immediately to her assistance, and saved 2 men, who had been upset in a boat alongside the ship in a heavy sea. The ship succeeded in getting off.—Reward, 9*l.*

August 25.—The pleasure-boat Sarah was upset about two miles from the Ardglass coastguard station, County Down, Ireland. A coastguard boat, manned by the chief boatman of Ardglass station and 3 men, immediately proceeded to her aid, and saved her crew of 2 men.—Reward, 2*l.*

August 28.—The barque Regulus struck on the Skerries rocks, Anglesey. The Rev. OWEN L. WILLIAMS proceeded in the Cemlyn life-boat, four miles distant, to her aid, but found that the crew had already landed. There was a fresh breeze and a heavy sea running, and the life-boat was unable to return until the following day.—Reward, the thanks of the Committee to the Rev. O. L. WILLIAMS, and 5*l.* to the 5 men.

September 16.—A pilot galley was upset in a squall near Broadstairs, Kent. A coastguardman, seeing the accident from the shore, called up 3 of his comrades, and they proceeded in their boat to the assistance of her crew, 3 of whom they succeeded in saving; one man having shortly before been washed off the boat and drowned.—Reward, 2*l.*

September 19, 1854.—A boat filled, and sank during a strong gale of wind and a heavy sea, near Knock, Limerick. Three sub-constables observing the catastrophe, succeeded with much difficulty in obtaining a boat, and in persuading 2 out of 50 men to accompany them to attempt to save the crew. They succeeded, after much exertion and risk of life, in reaching the sunken boat, and in taking 2 men from her mast-head.—Reward, the silver medal and 2*l.* to each of the three constables, THOMAS TERRETT, PATRICK HEAVEY, and MICHAEL NICHOLSON, and 6*l.* to the two fishermen.

October 2.—The schooner Thor of Leith, was through the drunken state of the master and mate totally lost near Lossiemouth; having drifted from her anchors she got amongst the breakers, and filled. The master and a boy were the only persons on board, the mate and rest of the crew being on shore. A boat, manned by 5 men, put off to the wreck, but the master declined her services. As the night advanced the tempest increased, and as no boat could now approach the wreck, WILLIAM GRUER, coastguard boatman, swam to the vessel with a life-buoy to their rescue. He found that the master had locked himself in his cabin. GRUER instantly broke the door open, and brought him by force on shore. He afterwards assisted in saving the boy.—Reward, silver medal to GRUER. The boat's crew received 5*l.* from the owners.

October 14.—A boat belonging to the Austrian brig Pridetta, with 4 men on board, was upset in Ringroad, in the Severn, by getting athwart a vessel's cable. A yawl from Pill, manned by 3 men, cruising near the spot, proceeded to the aid of her crew, all of whom they succeeded in saving. One of the Austrians was saved by CHARLES CASE, one of the yawl's crew, who jumped overboard, and kept him up until the yawl could be got near enough to take them in.—Reward, 2*l.* to CHARLES CASE, and 10*s.* each to the other 2 men.

October 15.—The sloop Hopevell, of Aberdovey, was driven on shore on the Swash Point at the entrance of the Severn, where she sank, and her crew, 3 in number, were rescued from her rigging by a Gloucester boat, manned by 12 men, which was cruising at the time in Ringroad.—Reward, 1*l*.

October 16.—A fishing-boat, manned by 6 men, was upset by a heavy sea, when running for the shore near Culdaff, County Donegal. A boat put off from the shore to their assistance, and succeeded in saving 2 men, 4 of the crew having been washed off the boat and drowned before their arrival on the spot.—Reward, 6*l*. to the crew of 6 men, and 1*l*. to the owner of the boat.

October 26.—The brig Ann Catherine, of Sunderland, drove on shore on the Green Grounds, near Swansea, in a S.W. gale. Her crew of 9 men were rescued by the Beaufort steam-tug.—Reward, thanks of the Committee, inscribed on vellum, and 1*l*. to Capt. ROSSER, master of the Beaufort, and 2*l*. to his crew of 4 men.

October 26.—The barque Enchantress, of Whitehaven, ran on shore in a S.W. gale and thick weather near Dungeness lighthouse. The vessel broke up in about an hour after she struck. Every possible exertion was made to save the lives of the crew, but all perished with the exception of the mate, who was saved by the intrepidity of HENRY JORDAN, a coastguard extra boatman, who, rushing into the surf at great risk, caught hold of him.—Reward, 2*l*. to HENRY JORDAN.

October 29.—The Dutch schooner Jantje Meier went on shore on the Long Sand Head, at the entrance of the Thames. The Margate lugger Eclipse took the crew of 7 persons from the schooner's long-boat, and conveyed them to Margate.—Reward, 9*l*. to the master and 8 men of the Eclipse.

October 30.—The brig Hebe, of Wisbeach, ran on shore, in a sinking state, near Filey, on the Yorkshire coast. It was blowing a heavy gale from the N.E. at the time, with rain and a heavy sea running. The life-boat belonging to the Filey branch of the National Life-boat Institution was immediately launched and taken to the rescue of her crew, six in number, whom they succeeded in taking safely on board, and landing within a short time afterwards.—Reward, 7*l*. by owner of vessel.

November 1.—The brig Hartlepool, of Shields, was observed in a sinking state off Bridlington. A smack, manned by 5 men, proceeded to her assistance, and at risk to themselves they succeeded in taking off the crew of 9 persons and the master's wife, whom they conveyed to Hull.—Reward, 10*l*.

November 2.—The brig Louisa, of Newhaven, was driven on shore in a heavy gale from E.S.E., and wrecked on the Holm Sands, Suffolk. The Lowestoft life-boat, manned by 19 men, and with Capt. JOACHIM, R.N., on board, proceeded to her, and rescued the crew of 9 men.—Reward, the thanks of the Committee to Capt. JOACHIM, R.N., and 15*l*. 10*s*. to the life-boat's crew.

November 3.—The Swedish brig Vesta was driven on shore at Orfordness, Suffolk, in a heavy gale from E.S.E. 7 out of 9 of her crew were saved by the very gallant conduct of some persons who rushed through the surf to their aid with lines round their bodies. Two of the brig's crew were drowned. A boatman of Aldborough, named THOMAS CABLE, who had on several similar occasions distinguished himself by his courage, was unfortunately drowned when attempting to rescue the supercargo of the brig.—Reward, a grant of 20*l*. to the widow and orphans of THOMAS CABLE; the thanks of the Committee, inscribed on vellum, to NEWSON GARRETT, Esq.; and 3*l*. 10*s*. to 7 others for their assistance on the occasion.

November 3.—The ketch Albion, in a heavy gale from E.S.E., was driven on shore and wrecked near the low lighthouse at Orfordness. The crew, 4 in number, were saved by Mr. CARPENTER and Mr. WETHERALL, the lighthouse-keepers, who rushed into the surf, at personal risk, with small lines to their rescue.—Reward, the thanks of the Committee, inscribed on vellum, and 10*s*. to each of the lighthouse-keepers.

November 3.—The sloop Charlotte and Mary was driven on shore and wrecked at Thorpeness, near Aldborough, Suffolk. A fishing-boat, manned by 5 men, proceeded to her aid, and succeeded, at great risk, in rescuing 1 boy. Two seamen, 1 woman, and 3 children were drowned. — Reward, 11*l.* 5*s.*

November 3. — Twenty vessels, brigs, schooners, and sloops, were driven on shore in Hollesley Bay, Suffolk, in a heavy gale from E.S.E. Their crews, amounting to 132 persons, were, with the exception of 1 man, who was drowned, got safely on shore through a heavy surf: some were rescued by lines from the beach, others by a boat manned by pilots and coastguardmen. — Reward, 8*l.* 10*s.* to 14 of the peasantry who rendered important aid; and the thanks of the Committee, on vellum, to JOSHUA RODWELL, Esq., and to J. The crew of 5 men were rescued by the yawl Happy New Year, manned by 16 men, which proceeded to her assistance and took them off, at great risk to themselves in a heavy sea. — Reward, 32*l.*

Moved by WILLIAM COTTON, Esq., F.R.S., late Governor of the Bank of England, and seconded by Rear-Admiral C. R. DRINKWATER BETHUNE, C.B.

1. That the Report now read be adopted and circulated.

Moved by Rear-Admiral Sir THOMAS HERBERT, K.C.B., M.P., and seconded by MONTAGU GORE, Esq., late M.P. for Barnstaple.

2. That this Meeting has heard with extreme satisfaction that the numerous Life-boat Establishments in connection with the Institution are in so highly efficient a state; and also the encouraging fact that the unusually large number of 1388 persons have been rescued during the past year from a watery grave by life-boats and various means provided by this Society and other Bodies, on the coasts of the United Kingdom, for the preservation of life from shipwreck.

That this Meeting therefore pledges itself to use every exertion to support this truly national Institution in its humane work: so that its operations may be co-extensive with the urgent requirements for life-boats on the coasts.

Moved by Captain STEPHENSON ELLERBY, one of the Elder Brethren of the Trinity

House, and seconded by Major-General BLANSHARD, R.E., C.B.

3. LIFE-BOAT INSPECTOR—Commander J. R. WARD, R.N.

The object of this Institution, as declared in its title, is to rescue wrecked persons around the coasts of the United Kingdom.

The chief means by which it is endeavoured to carry this object into effect are:—

To build, station, and maintain in repair, Life-boats of the most perfect description; to furnish them with all necessary appurtenances, including houses to preserve them in; and carriages for their conveyance to the spots where their services are called for; and further, to provide, through the instrumentality of Local Committees, for their proper management, and the exercise of their crews regularly every quarter.

To confer honorary rewards in the form of medals and votes of thanks, and also to grant pecuniary remuneration to all persons who, at the risk of their own lives, save, or attempt to save, those of others on board vessels wrecked, or in distress, upon any part of the coast of the United Kingdom. The honorary rewards being extended, in striking cases, to similar services in other parts of the world.

As an index of the necessity for the provision of such a machinery as the above, it may be stated—that the average loss of lives from shipwreck on the shores of the United Kingdom is between 600 and 700 per annum.

Donations and Annual Subscriptions will be thankfully received by Messrs. WILLIS, PERCIVAL, and Co., 76, Lombard Street, Bankers to the Institution; Messrs. HERBES, FARQUHAR, and Co., 16, St. James's Street; Messrs. COUTTS and Co., 59, Strand; LONDON and COUNTY BANK, 21, Lombard Street; by all the London and Country Bankers; by the several Metropolitan Army and Navy Agents; and by the Secretary at the Office of the Institution, 14, JOHN STREET, ADELPHI, London.

Payments may be made by cheques (crossed), or by Post-office Orders, to Messrs. WILLIS, PERCIVAL, and Co.; or to the Secretary.
