OR

JOURNAL OF THE NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION.

(ISSUED QUARTERLY.)

VOL. XI.—No. 120.]

MAY 2, 1881.

[PRICE 1s.

The ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING of the ROYAL NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION, was held at Willis's Rooms, King Street, St. James's Square, on Thursday, the 17th day of March 1881. In the absence of His Grace THE DUKE OF NORTHUMBERLAND, P.C., D.C.L., President of the Institution, the Chair was occupied by the Right Hon. EARL PERCY, M.P. The following Report of the Committee was read by the Secretary :—

ANNUAL REPORT.

THE ROYAL NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION has now been in existence fifty-seven years, and it is a source of satisfaction to its Managing Committee to feel that at no period since its foundation has it more entirely possessed the confidence of the British public than now, as shown by the noble support it continues to receive—a support which the Committee feel would not have been afforded unless the necessity for its existence had been recognised and its system of management approved.

In truth, at no time has the need of such an Institution been more strikingly exemplified than during the past twelve months, more especially in the fierce gales and blinding snowstorms of January last, on our Eastern coast, which witnessed some of the most daring exploits of our Life-boatmen that have ever been recorded—exploits which not only testified to their humanity and courage, but to their wonderful physical endurance. In evidence of the same it will suffice to state, that on several occasions during those storms the Life-boats' crews were at sea from fifteen to twenty-four hours, and in one instance (that of the Ramsgate Life-boat), for twenty-six hours—exposed to the full fury of the storm, in the bitterest cold, in some cases without food throughout those long hours, and with their clothes stiffened with ice.

The transactions of the Society during the year may be epitomised as follows :—

Life-boats.—Since the last Annual Report seventeen new Life-boats have been sent to the coast, one of them to a new Station, and sixteen to replace other boats. Sixteen boats have been provided with new carriages, and three new boathouses have been built. On the other hand one station, viz., that at Chapman's Pool in Dorsetshire, has been discontinued.

The following are the Stations to which new Life-boats have been sent :—

ENGLAND AND WALES.

DURHAM . . . .	Whitburn.
YORKSHIRE . . . .	Saltburn.
NORFOLK . . . .	Wells.

 " " . . . . . Ardmore.
 " CORK . . . . . Ballycotton.

The Life-boats of the Institution have been the means of saving five hundred and seventy-seven lives during the past year from wrecked or endangered vessels, most of them under perilous circumstances, when ordinary boats could not with safety have been employed. Unhappily the Committee are not able to report that these invaluable services were performed without loss of life amongst the brave men by whom they have been accomplished, no less than five of the Institution's Life-boats having capsized, with a total loss of eighteen of their crews—a number unprecedented within one year in the history of the Institution. The following is a summary of these painful evidences of the dangerous character of the work which the Institution has undertaken to supervise:—

STATION.	Date.	Number of Lives lost.	Number of Widows.	Number of Orphans.
	1880
PORT ISAAC . . . . .	March 25	nil	nil	nil
ABERYSTWITH . . . . .	October 7	nil	nil	nil

HARWICH . . . . .	January 18	1	1	2
YARMOUTH . . . . .	" "	6	4	22
Totals . . . . .		18	15	54

Towards the maintenance of the widows, and of their children until able to support themselves, the Institution has subscribed 1,800*l.*, to be added to the local contributions raised in their behalf.

Shipwrecks.—The storms of the past year were unusually violent, and most destructive to life and property.

The services of the Life-boats of the Institution during each month of the year were as follows:—

1880.	Number of Life-boat Launches.	Vessels Saved.	Lives Saved.
January . . . . .	13	2	8
February . . . . .	34	4	81
March . . . . .	17	2	46

November . . . . .	39	5	120
December . . . . .	22	3	63
Total . . . . .	245	27	577

In addition to these Life-boat services, 120 lives were saved from shipwreck by shore-boats and other means, making a total of 697 lives preserved in 1880, for which honorary or pecuniary rewards were made by the Institution.

Happily about 430 lives were also saved last year by means of the Rocket Apparatus belonging to the BOARD OF TRADE, which is worked so efficiently by the Coastguard and the Rocket Volunteer Brigades.

The services of the Life-boats during the heavy storms of January last were most conspicuous; they were as follows:—

Annie Marie , schooner, of Krageroe . . . . .	3	Lives saved.

In view of facts like these the Life-boat Institution cannot fail to maintain its hold on the support of the British public.

Rewards.—In the Appendix a summary is given of the cases where honorary and other rewards have been voted last year. In that period 1 Gold, 6 Silver Medals and Clasps, 14 Votes of Thanks inscribed on vellum, and 4,287 $\frac{1}{2}$  were granted for saving the lives of 697 persons by Life-boats, shore and fishing boats, and by other means, on the shores and outlying sandbanks of our coasts.

The Committee continue to devote much time and consideration to the investigation and granting of these awards; but they are rewarded by the assurance that their decisions usually give universal satisfaction, and encourage our coast population to put forth their utmost exertions to save—often at the peril of their own lives—the lives of others.

The Institution continues to receive the cordial and prompt co-operation of H.R.H. the Admiral-Superintendent of

On some of these occasions the hardships of the Life-boat men were fearful; but all were borne, and borne bravely, their only anxiety often being that their sufferings might not ultimately interfere with their timely succour to the shipwrecked sailors. The latter again were often found so benumbed by the frost, snow, and wind, as to be all but dead; and frequently they also had to be carried ashore from the Life-boat.

The number of lives saved during the fifty-seven years from the establishment of the Institution, to the end of the year 1880, either by its Life-boats or by special exertions for which it has granted rewards, is 27,603, as shown in the following Table:—

Naval Reserves, and of the officers and men of the Coastguard service, to whom the Committee tender their best thanks. And they desire especially to refer to His Royal Highness' courtesy in presenting, on their behalf, the Medals and Votes of Thanks awarded by the Institution to the crews of the Ramsgate Harbour Life-boat and steamer in acknowledgment of their bravery and long exposure, extending over twenty-six hours, on the 5th and 6th January last, in rescuing the survivors of the crew of the barque Indian Chief wrecked on the Long Sands.

Since the establishment of the Institution, it has expended on Life-boat Stations, and other means for saving life from shipwreck, on the coasts of the United Kingdom, upwards of 540,000*l.*, and has voted 95 Gold Medals, 931 Silver Medals, and 66,500*l.* in pecuniary rewards for saving life from shipwreck.

Local Committees.—The Committee again tender their best acknowledgments for the valuable and prompt co-operation afforded by the Local Branch Committees and their Honorary Secretaries, which constitutes so important and inseparable a part of the work and supervision of the Institution's numerous Life-boat Establishments, and of the collection of funds for their support.

Finances.—The donations, subscriptions, and dividends during the year 1880 have been 38,507*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.*, of which sum 7,550*l.* were special gifts to defray the cost of the following eight Life-boats:—

There were expended during the past year 11,097*l.* 9*s.* 11*d.* on additional Life-boats, Transporting-carriages, Boat-houses, and necessary gear; 13,349*l.* 0*s.* 4*d.* in repairs, painting, refitting, and sundry charges on Life-boat Establishments, and on the Store-yard at Poplar; and 13,130*l.* 18*s.* 8*d.* in rewards for services to shipwrecked crews, coxswains' salaries, quarterly practice of the Life-boats' crews, and other expenses; making altogether a total of 37,577*l.* 8*s.* 11*d.* against receipts amounting to 38,507*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.*

The items of receipt and expenditure are fully detailed in the financial statement, which has been audited as usual by Mr. LOVELOCK, public accountant.

In conclusion it is only necessary to state that the Institution now has 271 Life-boats under its immediate control, many of which, under the blessing of God, rendered such signal services to shipwrecked crews during the storms of last winter; and that each Life-boat station of this great and unparalleled Life-saving Fleet continues to appeal with confidence to a generous and discriminating public for sympathy and support.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED AT THE ANNUAL MEETING FOR 1881.

THE RIGHT HON. EARL PERCY, M.P., IN THE CHAIR.

1.—Moved by the CHAIRMAN:—

1.—That the following Noblemen and Gentlemen be the Officers of the Institution for the current year:—(Vide next page for this list.)

2.—Moved by The Right Hon. the EARL of SELKIRK.

Seconded by Sir W. T. CHARLEY, Q.C., D.C.L., Common Serjeant of the City of London.

Supported by EDWARD BIRKBECK, Esq., M.P., V.P.

2.—That the Report now read be adopted, printed, and circulated.

3.—Moved by the Right Hon. the EARL of SHAFTESBURY, K.G.

Seconded by the Right Hon. W. H. SMITH, M.P., ex-First Lord of the Admiralty.

3.—That this Meeting desires to testify anew its appreciation of the great and national work of the Life-boat Institution, and of the continued success which attends its extensive and perilous operations; and therefore considers that it has, and must continue to have, the strongest claim to the support and sympathy of the Public, particularly when it is remembered that the Institution has contributed, since its first establishment, to the saving of more than twenty-seven thousand persons from Shipwreck.

4.—Moved by the Right Hon. the EARL of COURTTOWN.

Seconded by the Right Hon. LORD SUFFIELD, K.C.B.

4.—That this Meeting offers its best thanks to THOMAS CHAPMAN, Esq., F.R.S., V.P., Chairman; to the Committee of Management, and to the Officers of the Institution, for their continued services and able management of the affairs of the Institution.

Also to the Honorary Local Committees and Secretaries of the several Branches, for their earnest and active co-operation with the parent Institution.

5.—Moved by Admiral Sir RICHARD COLLINSON, K.C.B., Deputy Master of the Trinity House.

Seconded by Vice-Admiral AUGUSTUS PHILLIMORE, late Admiral Superintendent of Naval Reserves.

Supported by Colonel FITZROY CLAYTON.

5.—That this Meeting acknowledges the brave spirit which continues to animate the Coxswains and Crews of the Life-boats, which was never more conspicuous than during the storms of October and January last—when they were instrumental in saving two hundred and eighty-seven Lives—being frequently subjected to most severe and prolonged exposure in the performance of their dangerous services.

6.—Moved by Sir EDWARD G. L. PERBOTT, Bart., V.P.

Seconded by GEORGE LYALL, Esq., V.P.

6.—That the best thanks of this Meeting be given to the Right Hon. EARL PERCY, M.P., for so ably presiding over this fifty-seventh Annual Meeting of the ROYAL NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION, and for the kind interest he takes in its welfare.

The object of this Institution, as declared in its title, and in its Charter of Incorporation, is to afford assistance to every shipwrecked person around the Coasts of the United Kingdom.

The chief means by which the Society hopes to carry this object into effect are:—

To build, station, and maintain in repair, Life-boats of the most perfect description; to furnish them with all necessary Appurtenances, including Houses to preserve them in, and Carriages for their conveyance to the spots where their Services are called for; and further, to provide, through the instrumentality of Local Committees, for their proper Management and the occasional Exercise of their Crews.

To confer Honorary Rewards in the form of Medals and Votes of Thanks, and also to make liberal grants of money to all persons who, at the risk of their own lives, save, or attempt to save, those of others on board vessels wrecked, or in distress, upon any part of the Coasts of the United Kingdom.

As an index of the necessity for the provision of such a machinery as the above, it may be stated that the average loss of lives from shipwreck annually on the shores of the United Kingdom is 700.

THE EXPENSE OF A LIFE-BOAT STATION IS £1,000. ITS COST IS MADE UP AS FOLLOWS:—

Life-boat and her equipment, including Life-belts for the Crew and Transporting-carriage for the Life-boat . . . . .	£650
Boat-house (average cost) . . . . .	350
Total . . . . .	£1,000

The average annual expense of maintaining a Life-boat Station is £70, and the benefactions and contributions of Donors of Life-boats are earnestly solicited in aid of that fund.

GOD HELP OUR MEN AT SEA.

List of the Rewards

FOR SAVING LIFE FROM WRECKS

VOTED BY THE ROYAL NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION

TO THE CREWS OF ITS LIFE-BOATS, TO SHORE AND FISHING-BOATS' CREWS, AND TO OTHER PERSONS,

FROM THE 1ST JANUARY TO THE 31ST DECEMBER, 1880.

Jan. 1.—The Newquay, Cardiganshire, Life-boat, Nelson, put off to the aid of the barque Pacific, of Swansea, which was in a dangerous position near the shoals in the bay during a fresh W. gale and hazy weather. One of the Life-boatmen was put on board the vessel and piloted her out of danger.

Jan. 2.—Early in the morning, during a strong W.S.W. breeze and heavy sea, large flare lights were seen in the direction of the Cross Sand, and the lightships fired guns and rockets. The Caister No. 1 Life-boat Covent Garden thereupon proceeded to the Middle Cross Sand, and found the s.s. Ancott, of West Hartlepool, bound from London to the Tyne in ballast, ashore there, in the midst of heavy breakers.

The Life-boat let go her anchor, veered down under the lee of the steamer, and boarded her, when the crew were engaged by the master to assist to get his ship off the sand. Fortunately their efforts were successful, and the steamer was eventually enabled to proceed on her voyage.

Voted the thanks of the Institution, inscribed on vellum, and 1*l.*, to Mr. DENNIS CONNOR, Chief Officer H.M. Coastguard, at Rosslare, Ireland, in acknowledgment of his arduous and zealous services on the occasion of the launch of the Carnsore Life-boat, in reply to signals of distress shown from the Tuskar lighthouse on the 28th November.

Also a binocular glass, with a suitable inscription, to Mr. PHILIP JEFFERSON, late coxswain of the Newbiggin Life-boat, in remembrance of his former good services in the boat in saving life from shipwreck.

Also a binocular glass, with a suitable inscription, and 10*l.*, to Mr. WILLIAM GRANT, on his retirement from the office of coxswain of the Institution's Life-boat at Margate, which appointment he had held seventeen years, in which period he had assisted to save 98 lives from various wrecks. He had previously received the Silver Medal and Second Service Clasp of the Institution.

Also 5*l.* to a man who had been injured while assisting to haul up the Theddlethorpe Life-boat.

Jan. 21.—During a moderate breeze from the N.W., and in cloudy and misty weather, guns were heard from the direction of the Goodwin Sands. The Ramsgate steam-tug Aid, and the Life-boat Bradford were at once manned, and left the harbour at 12.30. On arriving near the N.W. spit of the Goodwin Sands, a barque and a brigantine were observed ashore. The Life-boat was slipped and rowed alongside the brigantine, which proved to be the Black Diamond, of Guernsey, bound from Shields to St. Brieuc, France, with a cargo of coal. The master engaged the services of the Life-boat and tug. At the same time a lugger was seen alongside the barque. On the tide flowing, the steamer backed in, and towed the brigantine's anchor out in a N.W. direction; a large hawser was then passed to the vessel, and the tug commenced towing, and continued doing so for about two hours, the crew of the Life-boat meanwhile assisting to heave on the windlass, and also helping at the pumps. Eventually the vessel's head was moved, but, the tide falling, they failed to get her afloat, and the master then requested them to remain and try again on the following tide. At about 6 o'clock on the next morning, just before high water, the tug again backed in and commenced towing, the crew, as before, heaving at the windlass. They continued for two hours, but, the tide again falling, they were unable to move her, and the tow-rope was then slipped and hauled on board. The master of the barque, which was lying near the edge of the sand, her anchor having been taken out by the lugger, then hailed the steam-tug to tow his vessel into a place of safety. Accordingly her tow-rope was hauled on board, and the steamer commenced towing; the barque's anchor was hove up, and she was taken to a safe anchorage in the Downs. She was the Karoon, of Truro, U.S., 447 tons, bound from Yarmouth to New York, with a put cargo of scrap iron.

The steamer then returned to the brigantine, the Life-boat in the meantime having remained alongside. On the tide again flowing, the wind and sea increased, causing the vessel to strain and leak badly, and although the pumps were kept constantly at work, they were unable to keep the water under. At about 5 p.m., there being six feet of water in the hold, and the water still rising and gaining on the pumps, it was decided to abandon her, and the crew, consisting of six men, were then taken into the Life-boat, which proceeded, in tow of the steamer, to Ramsgate Harbour, where they arrived at about 5.30 p.m. on the 22nd January. On the following morning the brigantine had sunk in the sands, her masts alone being visible.

Jan. 22.—The fishing-smack Temperance Star, of Redcar, was driven near the rocks during a strong gale from N.N.E., accompanied by a rough sea. On observing her perilous position, the Life-boat Burton-on-Trent, stationed at Redcar, was launched, proceeded to her, took the crew of two men out, and then brought the smack into a safe position.

Jan. 25.—Signals of distress having been shown from some vessels in Carnarvon Bay, the crew of the Porthdinllaen Life-boat George Moore quickly assembled, launched the boat, and proceeded in the direction of the light, when they were enabled to render assistance to two fishing smacks, the James, and the Atkins, both belonging to Liverpool, which had been in collision about nine miles N.E. of Porthdinllaen.—Expense of service, 13*l.* 5*s.*

Feb. 5.—The coxswain of the Centurion Life-boat, stationed at Walmer, was informed by a boat's crew that they had seen a vessel on the Goodwin Sands; but as the wind and sea were nearly calm at the time, he did not think it necessary to launch the Life-boat until he found that four of the vessel's crew were left on board, and could not be rescued on account of the surf on the Sands, the remainder of the men having been taken off by some galleys. He then returned to the station, and, having assembled the Life-boat crew, the boat proceeded to the vessel and rescued the four men, who were brought safely ashore. Their vessel was the barque Shannon, of London, bound from Shields to Leghorn with a cargo of coal.—Expense of service, 17*l.*

Feb. 5.—Voted 242*l.* 13*s.* to pay the expenses of the Clacton-on-Sea, New Romney, Kingsdowne, Deal, Walmer, Mullion, Porthdinllaen, Banff, Cullercoats, Portrush, Great Yarmouth, Holyhead, Bacton, and Buckie Life-boats, in assembling their crews, or putting off in reply to signals of distress shown by vessels not ultimately needing the aid of the boats.

Voted the Gold Medal of the Institution, and a copy of the vote inscribed on vellum, to Mr. WILLIAM PARTRIDGE CUBITT, Jun., in acknowledgment of his very brave conduct in plunging, at the peril of his life, into the sea from the Bacton Life-boat, in the midst of a heavy surf, after the upsetting of that boat, on the 20th January, and cutting a rope which had entangled her rudder. By this means she was released from a very perilous position, and was enabled to reach the shore with those on board her.

The thanks of the Institution, inscribed on vellum, and 1*l.*, were voted to Mr. WILLIAM WENN, and 6*l.*, to six other men, for putting off in a yawl, and rescuing some of the crew on the above-named occasion.

Also the thanks of the Institution to W. E. CARVER, Esq., J.P., in acknowledgment of his kind and valuable co-operation in taking an oar in the Portrush Life-boat, on the occasion of her launch to the stranded schooner Graham, of Dumfries, on the 29th December, 1879.

Feb. 9.—The Plymouth Life-boat Clemency

put off during a heavy S. gale, and rendered valuable assistance to the s.s. Hankou, of London, which was in a perilous position outside Plymouth Breakwater. The Life-boat conveyed hawsers from the Government steam-tug Trusty to the vessel, at the imminent risk of the men's lives, and she was then extricated from her dangerous situation and towed inside the Breakwater by the Trusty and two other steamers. The sea was so heavy outside that it would have been impossible, in the absence of the Life-boat, to have passed the towing hawsers to the endangered vessel.

Feb. 9.—During a strong gale from W.N.W. and a heavy sea, the ketch Louisa, of Bideford, bound to that port from Newport, with coal, was at anchor off Clovelly, when she showed a signal of distress. The Clovelly Life-boat Alexander and Matilda Boctefeur immediately proceeded to her, and on arriving alongside found that she was riding heavily at her anchors. The crew of three men and a female passenger were anxious to be taken ashore, and they were therefore taken into the Life-boat and safely landed. A few hours afterwards the weather moderated, and the men went on board their vessel again, got her under weigh, and proceeded on their voyage.—Expense of service, 7l. 3s.

Feb. 9.—At about 11 o'clock in the morning the brigantine Andover, of Dublin, which had lost her mainsail and had become unmanageable, stranded about one mile from Dundalk Lighthouse, during rough weather, and showed signals of distress. The Giles' Quay Life-boat proceeded to her, took off the crew of six men, and landed them at Dundalk Quay. The wind was then blowing strongly from the E., and the sea running high; the Life-boat therefore remained at Dundalk until the weather moderated.—Expense of first service, 10l. 13s.

While on her way back to her station, on the following morning, she was asked to try to tow the Andover off the bank. The Life-boat crew rendered the required assistance, and succeeded, with the aid of another boat's crew, in getting her afloat. The coxswain of the Life-boat, who is a pilot, then took charge of the vessel, signalled for a tug, and had her towed up to the Quay. She was on a voyage from Limerick to Liverpool, with a cargo of bones.

Feb. 9.—At 7.30 a.m. the Two Sisters Life-boat, stationed at Ramsey, went out during a moderate gale from the E. and a heavy sea, and rescued the crew, numbering five men, from the schooner John Wesley, of Aberystwith, which, while on a voyage from Workington to Newport with a cargo of pig-iron, had missed stays and been driven ashore about two miles to the north of Ramsey Harbour.—Expense of service, 12l. 7s.

Feb. 10.—During a strong gale from S.S.E., veering to S.W., with a very heavy sea, signals of distress were shown by the barque Corea, of Boston, U.S., which had stranded on the "Greengrounds" in Swansea Bay. The Swansea Life-boat Wolverhampton went to her assistance, and on arriving alongside found that she was striking heavily; her false keel had been beaten off, and she was dragging her anchors. The crew of thirteen men, and one woman, had proposed to leave in the ship's boats, but the boats were swamped and lost. On the arrival of the Life-boat some of her crew went on board, and, with the assistance of a steam-tug which just then arrived, the barque was taken to Swansea.

Feb. 12.—A steam-tug came to the New Brighton landing-stage at 4 o'clock in the morning for the Life-boat, as there was a steamer ashore on the Askew Bank. The wind was blowing strongly from the S., and the weather was cloudy. The Stuart Hay tubular Life-boat was quickly manned, and proceeded in tow of the steamer to the aid of the stranded vessel. She proved to be the s.s. Anatolian, of Liverpool, bound thence to the Mediterranean with a general cargo. The Life-boat remained by her for some hours, and eventually transferred twenty-six of the crew to the tug, which took them to Liverpool; the captain and the pilot remained on board the Anatolian, trusting that she would not become a wreck.—Expense of service, 12l. 5s.

Feb. 12.—At about 5.30 p.m. the fishing schooner Kate, of Wexford, was seen to be running for the harbour. The wind was blowing moderately from the S.W., but the sea was rolling furiously in consequence of a strong gale on the previous night. Immediately on entering the bar she was struck by a heavy breaking sea, which completely capsized her. Her crew, consisting of four men, succeeded in getting upon the bottom of the boat, but were instantly swept off by the sea. By this time the Life-boat Civil Service had put off from Wexford to render assistance; but unfortunately nothing could be seen except some small portions of wreckage. After cruising about for a short time, the Life-boat picked up a man who had drifted in, clinging to a small piece of board. The poor fellow was in a most exhausted state; he was at once landed at Rosslare, and every effort was made to restore animation, but unfortunately without success, and he expired about an hour after being landed. The Life-boat again went out, but was unable to find any trace of the rest of the crew.—Expense of service, 6l. 9s.

Feb. 14.—Information was brought to the Cemaes, Anglesey, Life-boat Station of a wreck on Skerries Island. The wind was blowing half a gale from S.W. at the time. The Life-boat Ashtonian was immediately launched and proceeded to the vessel, which proved to be the barque Guiding Star, of Salcombe, bound to that port from Liverpool, with coal. The captain, his wife, and the crew, consisting of eight men, had succeeded in getting on the rocks by means of ropes from the jib-boom end. The Life-boat stayed several hours at the island, and eventually seven of the shipwrecked people were, with great difficulty on account of the tremendous sea, taken into the Life-boat and landed at Cemaes. Three of the vessel's crew remained on the island, so as to be able to save anything that might be washed ashore. On the 17th inst. the Life-boat again went to the island and brought them ashore.—Expense of first service, 6l. 11s.

Feb. 15.—At 6 p.m. the Caister No. 2 Life-boat, the Godsend, proceeded to the barque Orion, which had stranded on the south side of the North Scroby Sand. A fresh S. by E.

breeze was blowing at the time, the weather was foggy, and the sea was moderate at first; but the wind and sea afterwards increased very much, and the Life-boat accordingly remained by the vessel until she fortunately floated at about 12.30, when the boat returned to her station. The barque was bound to London with a cargo of wood—Expense of service, 18*l*.

Feb. 16.—The Great Yarmouth Life-boat Mark Lane was launched and proceeded through a heavy sea to the ketch Duquesclin, of Newcastle, which had shown a signal of distress while riding in the roads. She was found to be leaking, and the crew, consisting of four men, proposed to leave her. The Life-boat crew, however, worked at the pumps, and, with the aid of a steam-tug, the ketch was taken safely into harbour.

Feb. 23.—The ketch Forager, of Portsmouth, from Seaham to Chichester, with coal, with a crew of four men, stranded near Kingsgate Castle, Kent, on the 22nd February. A Coast-guard boat proceeded to her assistance, and endeavoured to get her afloat, but the tide fell before this could be accomplished. On the following morning the wind blew strongly from the E.N.E., and the sea was heavy, and it was therefore considered advisable to take the Kingsgate Life-boat Thomas Chapman out to the vessel, the lives of the crew being in danger. The Life-boat proceeded to her at about 6.30 A.M., and in three hours' time she was got afloat and, with the assistance of a steam-tug, was taken to Ramsgate Harbour, the Life-boat accompanying her to assist in steering, and to be in readiness in case her services were required to save life, as the vessel was leaking badly.

Feb. 26.—At 7.30 A.M. the coxswain of the Blackpool Life-boat was informed that a vessel had just been seen on the Salthouse Bank with a signal of distress flying. The wind was blowing a gale from the N.W., and the sea was very heavy at the time. He at once went down the pier, and, finding the report to be correct, the Robert William Life-boat was got out immediately, and placed in position for launching. It was found that only seven of the crew had arrived, and the coxswain then selected three landmen whom he knew could pull pretty well, and as no time was to be lost, the boat was launched, even now under-manned, her proper complement being ten oarsmen in addition to the two coxswains and a bowman. She proceeded under sail as near to the wreck as was possible, shipping heavy seas nearly the whole of the time. The oars were then got out, and after two hours' very hard pulling, she got alongside. Great danger was incurred in approaching the vessel, as her spars were adrift and working about. The Life-boat was therefore hauled to within ten yards or so of the rigging, and a line was passed on board, by means of which the crew were dragged one by one through the sea and into the boat; they were in a most exhausted condition, and almost unable to assist themselves. Having safely got the four men into the boat, the grapnel line was cut, the anchor weighed, and her head put for the shore, which was about four miles away. Being close on to the bank, she was obliged to run over it, the sea being terrific, but the drogue was got out and put in charge of the bowman, the sub-coxswain not being on board. One great sea broke right over the boat's stern, filling her completely, and driving her like an arrow for about a quarter of a mile. At last, despite all efforts, she broached to and was thrown on her beam ends, one man being washed overboard, and the remainder hurled to the side of the boat. The crew, however, by direction of the coxswain, quickly sprang to the weather side, which manœuvre brought her almost to an even keel, and prevented a capsizing. Her head was once more put before the sea, and the man who had been thrown overboard and had held on to the life-lines, was pulled into the boat. They, however, still had a critical time, for when the boat had been struck by this heavy sea the bowman had been knocked over, and had lost his hold of the drogue line, and the drogue was consequently lost. The coxswain then got out the bucket, and having attached lines to it, extemporised a drogue. At 12 o'clock at noon the Life-boat safely landed at St. Ann's, and was rapturously received by an immense crowd. The vessel proved to be the schooner Bessie Jones, of Fleetwood, bound from Glasgow to Liverpool with steel railway metals. One of the shipwrecked crew (the cook) had unfortunately been washed overboard from the vessel and drowned before the Life-boat arrived.—Expense of service, 15*l*. 13*s*. 9*d*.

The Silver Medal of the Institution was voted to Mr. ROBERT BICKERSTAFFE, the coxswain of the Life-boat, in acknowledgment of his general gallant exertions in the boat, and particularly for his good services on this occasion. A double reward was also granted to the crew of the Life-boat, in addition to the local presentation of a special Silver Medal commemorative of the occasion, accompanied by a sum of money, amounting to nearly 5*l*., which was paid into the Post Office Savings Bank to the account of each man.

March 2.—The Southend, Essex, Life-boat rendered assistance to a fishing-smack which was in distress.

March 4.—Voted 262*l*. 4*s*. 6*d*. to pay the expenses of the Life-boats at Broadstairs, Deal, Kingsdowne, Drogheda, Rye, Winchelsea, Porthdillan, Cresswell, Great Yarmouth, Carmarthen Bay, Fowey, Mewagissey, Sulcombe, Scarborough, Ardrossan, Whitehaven, Queenstown, and Piel, in assembling their crews or going out to the assistance of vessels which did not ultimately need their aid.

The Ramsgate Life-boat had proceeded to the aid of a vessel in distress, but her services were found not to be required.

Voted a binocular glass and 10*l*. to Mr. ED. TUPMAN, on his resignation of the office of Coxswain of the Exmouth Life-boat, which office he had held for more than twenty years.

March 7.—A rocket was fired from a vessel near Rhoscolyn Landmark, Anglesey, early in the morning, while the weather was foggy, and a heavy sea was running, the wind being S.W. The Thomas Lingham Life-boat, stationed at Rhosneigr, proceeded to her assistance, and found that she had struck on a rock. She was the barque Orient, of Liverpool, bound to that port from San Francisco, with a cargo of wheat.

Fortunately the wind shifted to the N., and aided by the advice of the coxswain of the Life-boat, the ship was extricated from her perilous position and was enabled to complete her voyage in safety.

March 11.—The Lydd, Dungeness, Life-boat David Hulett was launched in reply to signals of distress, and proceeded to the ship Livingstone, of Yarmouth, N.S., which had stranded near No. 2 Battery, East Bay, Dungeness, during a strong wind from E.S.E. and thick fog, accompanied by a rough sea. The boat remained by the vessel several hours, until she was got off with the assistance of three steam tugs.—Expense of service, 16l. 12s.

March 12.—On the 11th March, at midnight, signals of distress were shown from a ship ashore on the Long Rock opposite Ballywater, co. Down, and in response thereto the Life-boat Admiral Henry Meynell, stationed at Ballywater, was promptly launched and proceeded to the spot; but the night being very dark, with a gale blowing from the S.E., and a heavy sea running on the rocks, upon which there was not much water, the boat was compelled to wait for daybreak before going alongside the stranded vessel. During the time of waiting the tide fell, which rendered the task somewhat easier. The night was a very severe one, with tremendous rain squalls, to which the Life-boatmen were exposed for about six hours. However, they at last had the satisfaction to save the shipwrecked crew of five men, arriving back with them at Ballywater at about 7 A.M. Expense of service, 17l. 6s.

March 14.—In reply to signal guns from the East Goodwin Lightship, at 3.30 A.M., the Samuel Morrison Collins Life-boat, of Broadstairs, proceeded to the Goodwin Sands, and found the s.s. Mabel, of Hartlepool, ashore on the eastern part of the Sands. She had a crew of twenty-two men and two passengers, and forty-seven Deal and Broadstairs boatmen were on board rendering assistance, and, as she was in a most dangerous position, the Life-boat remained by her until 3 P.M. on the 16th, in case her services should be required to save those on board, should the weather become stormy. Fortunately, after throwing overboard 800 tons of cargo (iron ore), she came off the sand at 2 P.M. on the 18th March.

March 14.—At 3.30 A.M., during a fresh breeze from N.E., the Ramsgate Harbour Life-boat Bradford, and steam-tug Vulcan, proceeded to the Goodwin Sands in response to guns and rockets from the Gull Lightship, and found the barque Surinam, of Amsterdam, ashore there. The services of the Life-boat and tug were at once engaged by the master to try to get the vessel off, and the steamer attached her hawser and commenced towing; but the tide was falling fast, and after trying for about an hour it was seen that it could not then be accomplished. The starboard anchor was, however, got ready, and the steamer took it out a distance of seventy-five fathoms, and on the tide flowing she once more backed in, attached her hawser to the starboard quarter, and again commenced towing. After towing for some time, the tide forced the vessel round, when the tow-rope was slipped and made fast to the starboard bow. Again the steamer commenced towing, the crew heaving on the windlass. The vessel bumped heavily on the sand, but in about half an hour she came afloat, and was taken to a safe anchorage in the Downs. She had a general cargo and a crew of ten men, and was bound from Amsterdam to Surinam, Dutch Guiana.

March 17.—At 6.30 A.M., during a fresh breeze from the E., the Vulcan tug and Bradford Life-boat, of Ramsgate, went to the aid of a large brig which was seen ashore on the N.E. part of Goodwin Sands. On arriving alongside, the Life-boat found the crews of two Ramsgate luggers on board. The master engaged the services of all the men to assist to get the vessel off. The deck cargo of rough timber was thrown overboard, the pumps were manned, and the water pumped out. On the tide flowing, the Vulcan backed in and attached her hawser, and eventually the steam-tug Wanderer, which had been lying near, was also engaged to try to get the vessel off the sands; but the heavy sea caused her to pitch so heavily that the tow ropes constantly parted, and further attempts had to be suspended for a time. At 1 o'clock on the following morning the vessel's sails were set, to endeavour to force her over the sand, and she was moved about three lengths ahead, when the tide again fell and she remained fast. At 1 P.M. the whole of her canvas was again set, and both of the steamers' hawsers were attached to her, and after towing until about 4 P.M., it being the top of high water, she moved ahead, and was eventually got afloat and towed into Ramsgate Harbour, arriving at 5.30 P.M., the salvors' persevering attempts to save the vessel and crew being thus rewarded by success, after upwards of thirty hours of toil and exposure. She proved to be the brig Heroen, of Porsgrund, Norway, bound thence to Cardiff with a cargo of timber, and having a crew of nine men.

March 30.—It was reported by the master of a fishing smack that a barque had grounded on the Arklow Bank. The Out-Pensioner Life-boat, stationed at Arklow, proceeded to her assistance, and found she was the barque Pater, of Sundswall, Sweden, bound from Liverpool to New York with a cargo of salt. The Life-boatmen were requested to assist in throwing the cargo overboard or into hookers if they arrived. This work was persevered in for six or seven hours, when a heavy breeze sprang up from the S.S.W., accompanied by rain, and the sea rose so rapidly and so high that it was considered advisable to get away from the vessel as soon as possible. The Life-boat therefore returned ashore, bringing eleven of the crew and the captain's wife, the remaining three men of the crew having previously been taken off by a fishing boat. The Life-boat arrived at Arklow at about midnight, after crossing the Bank, where she shipped a great quantity of water. Prior to leaving the barque, one of the seamen fell overboard; his cries were heard from the Life-boat, which was pulled in that direction, and happily they were successful in picking the man up, after he had floated some distance. Before noon the next day the vessel had entirely disappeared.—Expense of service, 23l. 9s.

Voted the thanks of the Institution, inscribed on vellum, to the Rev. J. O'REILLY BLACKWOOD, in acknowledgment of his arduous and praiseworthy services in the Ballywalter Life-boat, on the occasion of the rescue of the crew of five men of the brigantine John and Mary, of Belfast, which was wrecked on the Long Rock off Ballywalter, Co. Down, during a heavy S.E. gale on the night of the 11th March.

Also the thanks of the Institution, inscribed on vellum, to JOHN CRAIG, Esq., in acknowledgment of his most assiduous and valuable co-operation at Ardrossan, on the occasion of the wreck of the barque Matilda Hilliard, of Yarmouth, N.S., on the 1st March.

Voted also 38l. 3s. to pay the expenses of the Life-boats at Cemlyn, Bude, and Dundalk, in either assembling their crews or putting off to vessels not ultimately needing their aid.

The Ramsgate and Southend (Essex) Life-boats had also been taken out with the view of assisting distressed vessels.

April 2.—The Runswick Life-boat Margaret and Edward put off to the aid of several of the fishing-cobles belonging to that port which had been overtaken by a gale. The Life-boat remained out two hours, and rendered important service to the boats in assisting them to get safely ashore.

April 2.—While fourteen of the Newbiggin cobles were out fishing, at about 11 A.M., the sea suddenly rose to a great height, and considerable anxiety was felt for the safety of the boats and their crews. The Newbiggin Life-boat went to their assistance, and after some hours' exertion eleven of the cobles were brought in safety to the shore. The other three boats were out of sight, and as the sea was very high, and there was but little wind, it was evident that they required assistance. The Life-boat therefore proceeded in the direction of the fishing-ground, fell in with the boats, and towed them into the bay, one of the boats being towed three miles. The Life-boatmen were engaged six hours in rendering these services.

April 9.—The ketch Rival, of London, bound there from Newcastle with fire-bricks, went ashore at Ostend, about a mile and a quarter N. of the Hasborough Life-boat Station, during a strong E.N.E. wind and a thick fog, on the night of the 8th April. A rocket was fired to her, but the line got entangled in the wreck of another vessel which was near, and was rendered useless. The Hasborough Life-boat Huddersfield then put off and succeeded in rescuing the persons on board the ketch, consisting of the master, his wife, and crew of three men.—Expense of service, 18l. 10s.

April 11.—At 4 A.M., during a strong wind from the E.N.E., and a heavy sea, the British Workman Life-boat, stationed at Palling, Norfolk, was launched to the aid of the brig Betty, of Tonsberg, Norway, which had grounded on the Hasborough Bank, and had floated off in a very damaged condition. With the assistance of a yawl the vessel was beached at Palling, her crew of eight men being landed by the Life-boat.

April 15.—Two fishing-cobles, with three men in each, were observed making for Whitby Harbour at 2.30 P.M. A strong E. gale had suddenly sprung up, causing a heavy sea on the bar, and the boats were in great danger of being swamped. The Life-boat Harriott Fortearth went to their assistance, supplied each of the men in the cobles with a cork life-belt, and remained by the boats until they were safely beached.

April 26.—About 9 A.M. several of the fishing cobles were observed running for Cullercoats harbour. As a strong breeze was blowing, and the sea had risen very much, it was feared that they might meet with accident in crossing the bar. The Cullercoats Life-boat, Palmerston, was therefore pulled out to their aid. The first coble which arrived got in with difficulty; and as the sea was very heavy on the bar, and the tide was low, the Life-boatmen persuaded the crews of the other boats to make for Shields, rather than run the risk of losing their boats.

May 4.—At 11.30 P.M. guns were fired by the St. Nicholas Lightship, in response to which the Gorleston Life-boat Leicester immediately put off and proceeded to the Scroby Sand. The weather at the time was thick, with rain; the wind was not heavy, but there was a considerable swell. It was found that the schooner Pride of the Isles, of Bridport, had gone ashore on the south part of the sand. She had lost her rudder, and as she had more than four feet of water in her hold, her crew, consisting of six men, were taken into the Life-boat and safely landed. The vessel rolled over and sank almost immediately after the Life-boat had left her.—Expense of service, 15l.

May 5.—At about 2.20 A.M., during a fresh wind from the N.N.W., signal guns and rockets were fired from the North Sand Head and Gull Lightships. The Ramsgate Harbour steam-tug Vulcan and Life-boat Bradford were manned as quickly as possible, and at 2.50 the Life-boat left the harbour. The tide at that time being low, the tug was aground, but soon floated, overtook the Life-boat before she arrived at the sand, and took her in tow. On nearing the N.W. buoy a large flare light was seen, and the boat was then slipped and made sail for the vessel, which proved to be the sloop Nimrod, of Jersey, 36 tons register, bound from London to Bideford; she had a crew of two men and a boy, and the master's wife was also on board. The sea was breaking over the stern of the vessel, and the master stated that the water was up over the cabin floor. Some of the Life-boatmen went on board, and assisted the master's wife into the Life-boat, and then commenced pumping the vessel, while others ran out her large keedge anchor. The steamer then backed in, and her tow-ropes were hauled on board and attached. After towing about half an hour the sloop, after striking heavily again on the sand, came afloat, and was towed into Ramsgate Harbour at about 7.30 A.M., the Life-boatmen continuing at the pumps until the vessel was moored in a safe position.

May 6.—Voted 169l. 7s. 9d. to pay the expenses of the Life-boats at Broadstairs, Montrose, Palling, Solva, St. David's, Brooke, Brightstone Grange, and Great Yarmouth, in assembling their crews or putting off in reply to signals of distress shown from vessels which did not ultimately require the aid of the boats.

May 9.—Signals of distress were observed at midnight on the 8th May from a vessel which had stranded on the Dogger Bank. The wind was blowing from the E.N.E. at the time, and the sea was rough. The Ethel Eveleen Life-boat, stationed at Wexford, promptly proceeded to render assistance, and on arriving alongside the vessel, found she was the schooner Jonah, of Wexford, bound for that port from Dublin with a cargo of wheat. As she was full of water, her crew of four men, and two passengers, were taken into the Life-boat and brought safely to land.—Expense of service, 15*l*.

May 20.—An exciting scene took place off Blackpool this day, owing to the steamer Columbus taking the ground with three hundred passengers on board. Every effort was at once made to get her out of her dangerous position, but without success. The heavy seas meanwhile continued to roll over the steamer as she lay broadside on to them. All this time the passengers on board were in a terrible state of confusion, and a good many of them were under no little apprehension as to their personal safety, for almost without an exception they were drenched to the skin with the sea, which found its way on board. The captain, seeing that there was no chance of getting his vessel afloat until the turn of the tide, hoisted a flag of distress, whereupon the Life-boat bell was rung by Mr. Robert Bickerstaffe, the coxswain, and the boatmen ran with all speed to the boat-house. Their zeal and anxiety to get a place in the Robert William Life-boat were so marked that, in their eagerness to get hold of a cork jacket, which enables him who gets it to have an oar during the rescue, the coxswain was hustled up to the far end of the boat. Four horses were stopped on the road and attached to the Life-boat carriage. The force supplied by the efforts of the willing horses was immediately augmented by literally hundreds of strong arms dragging away at the ropes, so that the sands presented a most animated aspect as the Life-boat and the accompanying crowd hurried along under the south pier and on to the north, where the living freight of the Columbus were eagerly awaiting delivery from their unpleasant if not perilous, position. At about twenty minutes past one the Life-boat was shot off her carriage and dashed into the broken surf, amid the lusty cheers of the crowds of bystanders. Once afloat, she was very soon alongside the stranded steamer. By this time several sailing and rowing boats had also got alongside, and in half an hour all the three hundred passengers were once more safe on land again, to their inexpressible satisfaction. The Life-boat made two trips, and brought off sixty-two passengers the first time and seventy-one the second. The large sailing boats brought off about forty passengers each time. After all the passengers were safely landed, the Life-boat returned to the steamer, and remained alongside her until she floated again, at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.—Expense of service, 9*l*. 18*s*.

June 3.—Voted 35*l*. 10*s*. to pay the expenses of the Life-boats at Donna Nook and Lizard, in assembling their crews or putting off to the aid of vessels showing signals of distress, but not ultimately requiring assistance.

The Ramsgate Life-boat had also been out in reply to distress signals, but her services were not eventually needed.

June 4.—At 4 A.M., during a fresh breeze from the N. and misty rain, the Ramsgate Life-boat Bradford and steam-tug Aid went out in reply to signal guns from the Gull Lightship. They proceeded through the Old Cudd Channel, and round to the eastward of the North Sand Head, when they observed a schooner ashore on the N.E. part of the sand. On arriving abreast of the vessel, the Life-boat was slipped, and proceeded under sail towards her. The anchor was let go about thirty fathoms to windward of her, and the boat was veered as near as possible; all the time a heavy sea was breaking over the vessel and occasionally filling the Life-boat. Two of the Life-boatmen jumped on board, and the boat was hauled off again, to avoid being damaged alongside. The master at once engaged the services of the Life-boat to assist to get his vessel off. As the tide flowed, the sea made, breaking completely over her and causing her to strike heavily on the sand. The canvas, which had been clewed up, was again set, to try to force her over the sand. There was not sufficient water for the steamer to get near in the heavy sea; but as the tide made, the vessel lifted with the sea, and the current setting her to the eastward, she beat over into deep water, and was then sailed round the North Sand Head into Ramsgate Harbour, where she arrived at 10.15 A.M. The pumps had been continually at work from the time the men went on board the vessel, which proved to be the schooner Isabella, of Beaumaris, 79 tons, bound from London to Dublin, with cement; her crew consisted of four men.

June 28.—At about 3.15 A.M. it was reported that a ship was ashore on the Goodwin Sands. The Walmer Life-boat Centurion accordingly proceeded to the inner part of the South Sand Head, and found the ship Colombo, of Greenock, ashore there. She was bound from Bassein, India, to Bremen, with a cargo of rice; her crew consisted of twenty-four men, and the master's wife and child were also on board. The captain engaged the services of the Life-boatmen and others to lighten the ship. After throwing over about 250 tons of cargo, they succeeded in removing her from her perilous position, and took her into the Downs. There was a fresh W.S.W. wind at the time, and the weather was hazy.

July 1.—Voted 43*l*. 7*s*. to pay the expenses of the North Deal, Walmer, Wexford No. 1, and Carnsore Life-boats, in putting off in reply to signals of distress exhibited by vessels not ultimately requiring the services of the boats.

July 4.—The Sutton Life-boat Caroline proceeded to the assistance of the yawl Wave, of Goole, which was showing a signal of distress. On arriving alongside it was found that her foretopmast and foremast-head rigging and head gear had been carried away in a squall, and as the sea was running too high to allow the crew to get the wreckage on board, she had brought up off Sutton and made signals of distress. The Life-boatmen stowed the wreckage, got the vessel under weigh, took her into Boston Deepes and anchored her in safety off the Scull Rig Buoy, remaining by her during the night until a tug from Boston arrived and took her in tow for Grimsby. The yawl was on a voyage from London to Middlesborough with a cargo of scrap iron.

July 19.—On the morning of the 18th July, during a thick fog, the s.s. Red Rose, of Cardiff, grounded on the Hasborough Sand. Some yawls went to her assistance, but finding that these boats did not return, and that the vessel still remained fast, at 3 A.M. on the following day the British Workman Life-boat, stationed at Palling, Norfolk, was launched, and with the combined efforts of the boats and steam-tugs the steamer was got off and taken into Yarmouth Roads. She was bound from the Tyne to Alexandria with coal, and had a crew of twenty-two men and two passengers.

Aug. 5.—Voted 9*l.* 18*s.* to pay the expenses of the Lizard Life-boat in putting off in reply to signals of distress to a vessel which did not eventually require assistance.

The Cemlyn and Winterton Life-boats had also been launched to the aid of vessels in distress, but their services were not ultimately needed.

Aug. 7.—Soon after 7 P.M. the coxswain of the Burnham Life-boat saw that the schooner Brune, of Bridgwater, had stranded near Highbridge Pill, and that the crew had been compelled to take to the rigging. The wind was blowing a hurricane from W.N.W. at the time. The Life-boat Cheltenham was immediately launched, proceeded as quickly as possible to the sunken vessel, and took seven men from the rigging, two of them being in a most exhausted state. The men were safely landed at Highbridge at 9.30 P.M.—Expense of service, 14*l.* 18*s.*

Aug. 7.—A sudden gale of wind sprang up at about 4 P.M., accompanied by a heavy cross sea, and four schooners were observed with signals of distress flying. The Porthdinllaen Life-boat George Moore was immediately launched, and proceeded to the Thetis, of Pwllheli, when it was found that she had struck the ground and was leaking, there being four feet of water in her hold. Two of the Life-boatmen were put on board to assist in keeping her afloat, and the Boat then proceeded to the James, of Nefyn, and found that she only required assistance to come to the quay. She then went to the Jane Eliza, of Nefyn, but she did not require any help. Finally the Life-boat proceeded to the Sarah Jane, of Chester, and as the captain's wife was very ill and wished to be taken ashore, she was taken into the boat and safely landed at Porthdinllaen.—Expense of service, 8*l.*

Aug. 8.—The Porthdinllaen Life-boat put off again, and rendered assistance to the schooner Thetis.

Aug. 8.—The Newquay, Cornwall, Life-boat Pendock Neale rescued the crew, consisting of two men, of the smack Harriette, of Barnstaple, bound from Swansea for Hayle with coal. The vessel had gone ashore on the rocks at the east end of Crantock Beach, about three miles from Newquay, and became a total wreck in a very few minutes. The two men took to their boat, and remained under the shelter of a large rock called the Goose until rescued by the Life-boat. The wind was blowing a fresh N.N.W. gale, and the sea was very heavy at the time.—Expense of service, 16*l.* 6*s.*

Aug. 14.—Information was received at 6 A.M.

that the smack Excel, of Grimsby, was on shore off Waxholme Mill. The Admiral Rous Life-boat, stationed at Withernsea, Yorkshire, was launched, but was driven back by the heavy surf. After considerable difficulty, the crew and launchers having to go up to their waists in the water to push the boat out, she was at last got off, and succeeded in rescuing four men. One of the crew, against the advice of his shipmates, had tried to get ashore in the smack's boat: but it was filled by the heavy sea, and the man with very great difficulty reached the shore by swimming.—Expense of service, 10*l.*

Sept. 2.—Voted also 120*l.* 7*s.* to pay the expenses of the West Wittering, Pembrey, Fishguard, Padstow, Deal, Broadstairs, and Kessingland Life-boats, in assembling their crews or putting off, in reply to signals of distress, to vessels which did not after all require their assistance.

Sept. 15.—The schooner Jane Smith, of Plymouth, bound from Llanelly to Ipswich with coal, was observed running for St. Ives Harbour at about 8 A.M., during a strong gale from the N. and heavy sea, with a signal of distress flying. The St. Ives Life-boat Exeter was at once launched, and proceeded to her assistance, but in the meantime the vessel struck on the "Ridge," and it was with considerable difficulty that the boat managed to get alongside and rescue the crew, consisting of six men. She then returned ashore against the gale, a strong tide setting to the eastward, and reached the harbour at about 9.30, when the men were safely landed in an exhausted state.—Expense of service, 8*l.* 15*s.*

Sept. 15.—The Clovelly Life-boat was launched during a heavy gale from the N., and rescued the crew, consisting of three men, from the smack Delabole, of Fowey, bound from Par to Swansea with a cargo of granite blocks. The vessel had lost her main sheet, mainboom and gaff, and her cargo had shifted; she subsequently sprang a leak, and sank during the following night. At the time of launching the Life-boat the tide was half ebb, with a heavy sea, and the crew were completely drenched before the boat could be got afloat.—Expense of service, 11*l.* 3*s.*

Sept. 15.—A very strong gale from the N.N.E., accompanied by a heavy sea, prevailed at Fishguard, South Wales. The smack Catherine, of Cardigan, bound thence to Swansea, in ballast, and the brigantine Osnabrick, of Papenberg, Hanover, bound from Sundsvall, Sweden, to Cardigan, with timber, were at anchor in the roadstead, and, as both were riding very heavily, a sharp look-out was kept on them during the day, as it was fully expected that the services of the Life-boat would be required. At about 5.45 P.M. a signal of distress was hoisted by the smack, and the Fishguard No. 1 Life-boat, Sir Edward Perrott, was at once launched, and went out splendidly through the broken sea. She took off the smack's crew of two men, and then proceeded to the brigantine to ascertain whether any aid was required; the master, however, declined any help, as he was in hopes that the gale was breaking up, and he thought that his vessel would be able to ride it out, as she had three anchors ahead. The boat then returned ashore and landed the smack's crew in safety. At 10 o'clock, just as the Life-boat had been placed in her house, the brigantine burnt signal lights, having parted her principal chain. The boat was immediately taken out again and proceeded to the vessel; but before she reached her the two remaining chains had given way, and she rapidly drifted on the sands, where a fearful sea was washing over her. As she had stranded in the midst of the broken water, considerable difficulty was experienced by the Life-boatmen in taking off her crew, the boat being several times completely filled; however, this was eventually accomplished, and the crew, consisting of six men and the captain's wife, were brought ashore in safety.—Expense of services, 18*l.* 19*s.*

Sept. 16.—The schooner Bonne Adele, of Isigny, France, bound to that port from Llanelly, with coal, parted her cables and drove ashore about a quarter of a mile west of Hayle Bar during a strong N. gale and heavy sea, at about 3 P.M. The Hayle Life-boat Isis was launched, and after a hard pull against the gale and heavy sea, succeeded in reaching the vessel, took off her crew of five men and landed them safely at Hayle at about 5.15.—Expense of service, 7*l.* 5*s.*

Sept. 20.—At about 12.30 A.M., the ship Paul Boyton, of Yarmouth, N.S., 1097 tons, bound from Baltimore to Hamburg with a cargo of maize, went ashore on the Goodwin Sands during a fresh wind from the W. and heavy sea. The Ramsgate Life-boat Bradford proceeded to the vessel in tow of the harbour steam-tug Aid, and the North Deal Life-boat also went to her assistance. Two steam-tugs, the Walmer Life-boat, and some other boats also arrived, and efforts were made by means of towing, pumping, and throwing part of the cargo overboard, to get the ship afloat; but all were in vain, and as it was found that the water was gaining on her, all hopes of saving her had to be abandoned, and the crew determined to leave for the shore. Thirteen of the crew and nine boatmen were then taken into the Deal Life-boat and safely landed at Deal. The Ramsgate Life-boat took three of the crew on board, but the master and mate refused to leave the vessel. The boat then sheered off to her anchor, where she remained until after high water. The master and mate still refusing to leave the vessel, although she had by this time fourteen feet of water in her hold, the boat made sail for the tug. The master then hailed her to come alongside to take the mate and himself off; but owing to the heavy sea the boat was unable to get alongside; she was, however, dropped under the vessel's stern, and the two men lowered themselves from the end of the spanker-boom into the Life-boat, and were thus saved at great peril to the Life-boat and to themselves. The boat then proceeded to the steamer, was taken in tow, and arrived in Ramsgate Harbour at 3 P.M.—Expense of Deal service, 17*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*

Oct. 1.—At 4 P.M. the Whitby Life-boat Harriott Forteach was launched and put four of the crew of a Cornish fishing-boat, the Matchless, on board their vessel, which was riding at anchor near Whitby Rock, and was in great danger in consequence of a very strong wind and heavy sea having suddenly sprung up.

The Life-boat also brought ashore a man from a coble which was unable to make the harbour or to land on the beach.

Oct. 5.—At about 9 A.M. the brig Frannaes, of Brevig, Norway, was observed to be making for Hartlepool, in tow of a steam-tug, during an easterly gale and in a heavy sea. She grounded on Middleton Beach and filled with water, and signals of distress were shown from her, whereupon the John Clay Barlow Life-boat, stationed at Hartlepool, proceeded to her assistance, and took off the crew of seven men and the pilot. The vessel afterwards broke up. She was bound from Brevig to West Hartlepool, with a cargo of pit props and mining timber.—Expense of service, 6*l.* 10*s.*

Oct. 7.—Voted 147*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.* to pay the expenses of the Life-boats at Courtown, Exmouth, Teignmouth, Skegness, Burnham, Carmarthen Bay, St. Ives, Walmer, Appledore, Saltburn, Penarth, and Caister, in putting off in reply to signals of distress shown by vessels which did not ultimately require the aid of the boats.

Also the Second Service Clasp of the Institution to JAMES MURPHY, Assistant Coxswain of the St. Ives Life-boat, in acknowledgment of his skilful and intrepid services in the boat on the occasion of the rescue of the crew of the schooner Jane Smith, of Plymouth, on the 15th of September.

Also the thanks of the Institution, inscribed on vellum, to Mr. T. B. WILLIAMS, Honorary Secretary of the St. Ives branch, and to Captain JOHN HODGE, a member of the St. Ives Life-boat Committee, both of whom went out in the Life-boat on the above-named occasion.

Also the thanks of the Institution, inscribed on vellum, to Captain D. GEORGE, Lloyd's sub-agent at Fishguard, for taking command of the Fishguard Life-boat twice on the 15th September, when she saved the crews, numbering in all nine persons, from the smack Catherine, of Cardigan, and brigantine Osnabrick, of Papenburg, Hanover.

Also the thanks of the Institution, inscribed on vellum, to Mr. T. G. PEARSON, Honorary Secretary of the Saltburn branch of the Institution, who went out in the Saltburn Life-boat on the 1st of October, with the view of assisting some fishing-cobles.

Oct. 7.—The Aberystwith Life-boat Lady Haberfield put off at about 8 A.M. to the aid of the Danish brig Julia, which was showing a signal of distress in the bay during a strong E.N.E. wind. On reaching her it was found that she had lost her course, and one of the Life-boatmen was therefore put on board to pilot her. She was on a voyage from the Baltic to Aberdovey with timber, and carried a crew of seven men.—Expense of service, 9*l.* 13*s.*

Oct. 9.—In the morning a heavy sea rose up off Cullercoats, and as several cobles had gone out early, either fishing or piloting, it was feared that some accident might occur to them in coming in over the bar. The Life-boat Palmerston was therefore launched, and accompanied each of the boats, as they arrived, safely over the bar. In two instances the danger was considered to be so great that the crews were taken into the Life-boat, and the cobles were towed ashore. These services occupied some hours, and the Life-boatmen being exhausted by the repeated rowing about in the heavy sea, a fresh crew were taken in the boat, when she again went out and took the crew of another coble on board, and towed the boat safely ashore. Fourteen boats in all were thus assisted by the Life-boat, and eleven men of their crews were taken on board her.—Expense of service, 10*l.* 10*s.*

Oct. 10.—On the 6th October the trawler Dr. Kenealy, of Hull, when about 150 miles from the Humber, found the Russian schooner Eva, of Abo, dismantled, and abandoned by her crew. She took her in tow, and two of the trawler's crew were put on board. When abreast of Spurn Lighthouse on the 10th October the tow-rope became detached, and the schooner ultimately became a total wreck near Tetney Haven. Signals of distress were exhibited by the two fishermen on board, and the Life-boat Richard, stationed at Donna Nook, went to their assistance, and rescued them. The weather at the time was very stormy, a strong gale of wind blowing from the N.E., accompanied by a rough sea.—Expense of service, 17*l.* 16*s.*

Oct. 11.—The Parsee Life-boat, stationed at Palling, Norfolk, was launched to the aid of the barque Saga, of Carlshamn, Sweden, which had stranded on the Hasborough Sand during a strong N.E. wind and heavy sea. She had previously grounded on the Leman and Ower Sands, but had floated off in a very damaged condition, and had then been abandoned by her crew. The Life-boat remained alongside the vessel until she again floated, when, with the aid of steam-tugs, she was taken to Harwich.

Oct. 22.—In the morning, during rough weather, the Looe Life-boat was launched and proceeded through a heavy ground sea to a small fishing-boat named the Ada, of Devonport, which had lost her foresail, jib, and mizen, and had become unmanageable. She was fast drifting on to a dangerous reef of rocks, and would undoubtedly have been wrecked had not the Life-boat promptly moored her in a safe position, after which she took her crew of two men safely ashore, amidst the cheers of the spectators. The two men were quite benumbed with the cold, and they expressed their deep gratitude for the help they had received, stating that they had given up all hope of being saved.—Expense of service, 9*l.*

Oct. 22.—The Pakefield Life-boat Two Sisters, Mary and Hannah, put off to the assistance of the schooner Effigo, of Goole, which had stranded on the Newcome Sand during a strong E. breeze. The vessel had floated off, and was riding at anchor when the Life-boat arrived. Some of the Life-boatmen boarded her, and found that she was leaking, and that her rudder was unshipped. The Lowestoft tug, which was alongside, took her in tow, and with the assistance of the Life-boat in steering her, she was taken safely into harbour. She was bound from London to Goole, with wheat, and had seven persons on board.

Oct. 26.—The brigantine Victoire, of Irvine, bound thence to Dublin with a cargo of coal, showed signals of distress when about two miles east of Ramsey Harbour. The wind was blowing from the E.N.E. at the time, and the sea was very heavy. The Ramsey Life-boat Two Sisters was with much difficulty launched, and succeeded in bringing the vessel, which had a crew of five men on board, safely into harbour.

Oct. 27.—The same Life-boat went, in a heavy sea, to the assistance of the brig William Hill, of Dundalk, which had shown signals of distress while lying in the bay about two miles from the shore. It was found that the vessel's cable had given way, and that she was rolling heavily. With the aid of the Life-boat this vessel was also brought safely into harbour. She was on a voyage from Dundalk to Ardrossan, in ballast, and carried a crew of five men.

Oct. 27.—About 7 p.m. the brig Naiad, of Whitby, bound from London to Hartlepool, in ballast, was endeavouring to enter Hartlepool Harbour, but owing to the easterly gale blowing at the time, and a very heavy sea, she stranded on Middleton Beach. The Life-boat John Clay Barlow, stationed at Hartlepool, put off and remained by her for about two hours, when steam-tugs succeeded in getting her off, and towed her safely into harbour.—Expense of service, 8*l.* 15*s.* 6*d.*

Oct. 27-8.—On the night of the 27th October the schooner Robert Brown, coal-laden, and with a crew of four men, was overtaken by a gale from E.N.E., with a heavy sea and, becoming unmanageable, was driven ashore near the Pigeonhouse Fort in Dublin Bay. Before striking the ground, one of the crew was washed overboard by a heavy sea and drowned, and immediately after her grounding another was swept away and lost, the two survivors securing themselves to the rigging. Without any means of making known their perilous condition, they were undiscovered until after daylight on the morning of the 28th, when they were first seen by a Coastguardman from the shore.

Unfortunately, the Coastguardmen who form the usual crew of the Poolbeg Life-boat were absent on board H.M.S. Belleisle, the Coastguard ship at Kingstown, undergoing their periodical drill.

Thus considerable time was lost before a sufficient number of seafaring men, or practical boatmen, could be found. Fortunately, however, though "blue jackets" were scarce, "red-jackets" were at hand, and quickly a number of soldiers from the Fort, led by Lieutenant J. A. W. O'Neil Torrens, of the Second Dragoons (Royal Scots Greys), and Dr. H. L. Cox, of the Army Medical Department, together with a few boatmen, dragged the Life-boat from its house to the shore, where, with great difficulty and some risk of life, it was launched, Lieutenant Torrens taking the helm and command, and three private soldiers, viz., Wm. Smith, bombardier Royal Artillery; P. Howard, private 57th Regiment, and F. Reilly, private Army Service Corps, together with five fishermen and three seamen, forming the crew.

Before leaving the shore the boat was badly stove, the spot where it was necessary to launch being thickly strewed with boulder-stones, and abounding with stumps of broken piles projecting through the beach. In fact, the mere getting it afloat and clear of the shore was a most dangerous work, not only to those in it, but to the large number of soldiers and others who, under the guidance of Dr. Cox and Mr. B. W. Jackson, chief engineer of the Government hired steamer Stanley, strenuously worked, often up to their waists in water. The boat, at one moment floated high by the sea, was the next dashed again on the stones, and only saved from destruction by its great strength and peculiar build, whilst those who stuck manfully to it ran serious risk of losing their lives by being drowned or crushed beneath it.

But, through indomitable pluck and energy all round, the boat was got at last afloat, and, after half an hour's severe struggle with the waves, reached the sunken craft and rescued the two survivors of her crew, who, half dead from exposure and cold, were safely landed and carried by the soldiers to their barracks, where they received every possible attention, and were so far recovered on the following day as to be able to proceed on their way.

Voted the Society's Gold Medal to Lieutenant Torrens, and its Silver Medal to the three soldiers who accompanied him, and to Dr. Cox; also the thanks of the Institution, inscribed on vellum, to Mr. Jackson, and thanks and 24l. 13s. 6d. to the non-commissioned officers and private soldiers who launched the boat.

Oct. 28.—The brigantine Folkestone, of Folkestone, was seen to be making for Hartlepool at about 8 P.M., during a hurricane from the E.N.E. As she showed signals of distress, the Charles Ingleby Life-boat, stationed at Hartlepool, put off to her assistance, and finding that all her sails had been blown away, and that she was unmanageable, her crew of seven men were taken on board the Life-boat, and were safely landed. The vessel, which was bound from Folkestone to Sunderland, in ballast, afterwards drifted ashore near Middleton.—Expense of service, 13l. 12s.

Oct. 28.—About noon a vessel was observed to be fast drifting on Whitby Rocks. She, however, succeeded in clearing the rocks, and was driven with tremendous force on the beach. The wind was then blowing a hurricane from the E.N.E., and the sea was extremely high. The Whitby Life-boat Robert Whitworth put off to her assistance, and with great difficulty and danger succeeded in rescuing her crew, consisting of four men. She proved to be the schooner Reaper, of Douglas, bound from Ostend to Sunderland, in ballast.—Expense of service, 15l. 0s. 10d.

At 1.30 P.M. a large fishing yawl, the Good Intent, of Staithes, was observed running for Whitby Sands, and as it was evident that she was in great distress, the Life-boat again put off through a fearful sea, and, with great danger and difficulty, saved the crew, consisting of eight men.—Expense of service 16l. 10s. 9d.

At 4.30 P.M. the schooner John Snell, of Great Yarmouth, bound thence to Newcastle, with a cargo of wheat, was also seen to be making for the beach. It was feared that she would not succeed in reaching the shore, as the tremendous seas continually swept over her, completely hiding her from view at times. She fortunately, however, kept her steerage-way, and eventually struck the beach. The same Life-boat, after being pulled for some distance through the seething mass of broken water, ultimately reached the vessel, and succeeded in landing her crew, consisting of five men.—Expense of service, 16l. 10s. 9d.

At 3.15 P.M. the schooner Elizabeth Austin, of Rye, bound thence to Sunderland, in ballast, was seen to be drifting rapidly towards the beach. The second Life-boat at Whitby, the Harriott Forteath, was immediately launched, and, upon the vessel stranding, her crew of five men were with difficulty taken into the Life-boat and brought safely ashore.—Expense of service, 15l. 0s. 9d.

Oct. 28.—At about 1.30 A.M. it was reported that a vessel was ashore on the Langhorne Sands, about eight miles west of Ferryside, Carmarthen Bay. The wind was blowing a gale from the S.W., with heavy squalls, and the sea was heavy. The Ferryside Life-boat City of Manchester was launched, and after a severe pull against the wind and sea, she succeeded in reaching the vessel, which proved to be the schooner Magdalen Esther, of New Quay, bound from New Ross to Cardiff with pitwood. She had carried away both her anchors, and had stranded on the sands. She had lost her bulwarks and foremast, and the sea was breaking completely over her. Her crew of four men were taken into the Life-boat and brought safely to land.—Expense of service, 15l. 15s.

Oct. 28.—Rockets were sent up from Batten Coastguard Station, Plymouth, during a very heavy gale from S.W. to W.S.W. The Plymouth Life-boat Clemency went out to render assistance to any vessel in distress, and found four vessels ashore. The crews of three of them had been taken off by the rocket apparatus, but the fourth, the schooner Fortuna, of Grimsby, was found sunk about a mile and a half from Batten, with her crew, consisting of three men, lashed in the rigging. The Life-boat succeeded in taking the men off the wreck, and brought them safely ashore. The schooner was bound from Wales to London with a cargo of paving-stones.—Expense of service, 13l. 5s.

Oct. 28.—The schooner City of Bangor, of Bangor, was seen riding heavily at her anchors in Porthdinllaen Bay during a heavy N.E. gale, at about 9 A.M. In reply to her signals of distress the George Moore Life-boat, stationed at Porthdinllaen, put off to her, and found that she had just parted one of her chains, and as there was a likelihood of her parting the other, the crew, four in number, wished to be brought ashore. With considerable difficulty they were taken into the Life-boat and landed at Porthdinllaen.—Expense of service, 7l. 17s. 6d.

On the following day the Life-boat again went off, and rendered assistance to the same vessel.

Oct. 28.—During a severe storm, at about 9.30 A.M., the brig Mary, of South Shields, in trying to make Scarborough Harbour, was driven on shore by the wind and heavy sea. The Life-boat Lady Leigh was launched, and, after a severe struggle, reached the vessel, and saved her crew of six men and a boy. A minute or two after the crew had been taken off, the vessel's mainmast broke close by the deck, and fell overboard with a crash, taking with it the foretopmast. The crew, and also the Life-boat, had a very narrow escape.—Expense of service, 11l. 3s.

At 11 A.M. the Life-boat again went out, and rescued the crew of five men from the schooner Black-Eyed Susan, of Bideford, which had also gone ashore, and subsequently broke up. The Life-boat had to be pulled with great difficulty along the front of the Spa, being amongst heavy breakers the whole of the time.—Expense of service, 11l. 3s.

At about 3 P.M., the brig Jeune Adolphe, of Nantes, went ashore on the South Sands, and the Life-boat immediately went to her assistance, and saved her crew, consisting of eight men.—Expense of service, 11l. 13s.

At about 8.30 P.M., the Life-boat was launched for the fourth time this day, and rescued the crew, consisting of four men and the master's wife, from the sloop J. Prizeman, of Plymouth, which had also stranded. This service was even more difficult and dangerous than the previous ones, as it was now dark, and the gale had, if possible, increased in its fury.—Expense of service, 20l. 1s.

On the following morning the gale had somewhat moderated, after a terrible night; but the sea was still very rough. At about noon the Dutch galliot Herbruder went ashore, and the Life-boat was again promptly manned, and brought safely ashore the crew of three men.—Expense of service, 11l. 13s.

Oct. 28.—During the night of the 27th October the wind blew a very heavy gale from the W.S.W., and early on the morning of the 28th signals of distress were observed from the direction of Trescoe. The Scilly Islands Life-boat Henry Dundas, went out, and found the brig Messenger, of Salcombe, lying on the reef. The rocket apparatus had just established communication, but the hawser had fouled. Five of the crew were taken off by the Life-boat, the captain and two men remaining by the vessel. The Life-boat stayed by her until daylight, and then returned to the shore. The vessel afterwards floated; she was bound from Cardiff to Portsmouth, with steam coal.—Expense of service, 14l. 6s.

Oct. 28.—A schooner was observed at daylight in a dangerous position midway between Piel and Fleetwood; she had a signal of distress flying, and was apparently drifting helplessly in the heavy gale which was then blowing from the E.N.E. The William Birkett Life-boat, stationed at Piel, proceeded to her, and found that although she had three anchors down, she was dragging them fast, and was drifting to leeward. At the master's request the Life-boat remained alongside the vessel until a steam-tug arrived, and towed her and the Life-boat safely into Piel. She was the schooner Jane Hughes, of Carnarvon, from Morecambe to Duddon.—Expense of service, 8l. 5s.

Oct. 28.—The West Hartlepool Life-boat Rochdale proceeded to the assistance of the schooner Royal Albert, of Maldon, which was in imminent danger during a hurricane from the E.N.E. The vessel's crew of five men were taken into the Life-boat, and the schooner afterwards beat up alongside the pier and became a total wreck.—Expense of service, 22l. 11s. 6d.

Oct. 28.—In the afternoon of this day the North Sunderland Life-boat Joseph Anstice put off in a very heavy sea, and rescued the crew, consisting of nine men, from the Swedish brig Alice, which was totally wrecked under Bamborough Castle.—Expense of service, 12l. 7s.

Oct. 28.—It was reported in the morning that a vessel was ashore about a mile south of Redcar pier. The Redcar Life-boat Burton-on-Trent was launched, and succeeded in rescuing the crew, consisting of seven men. She proved to be the brig Emanuel Butcher, of Whitby, bound to that port from Rotterdam, in ballast. Her sails had been blown away, and she ultimately became a total wreck.—Expense of service, 19l. 17s.

Oct. 29.—The brig Hazard, of Grimstead, bound from that port to Dover, in ballast, showed signals of distress off Redcar. She appeared to be trying to work off the land, but could not do so, owing to the heavy wind and sea. When close in shore, and near the breakers, she was headed to the land and run ashore. The Life-boat went to her, rescued the crew, numbering nine men, and landed them at Marske.—Expense of service, 19l. 4s.

Oct. 29.—The brig Sharon's Rose, of Whitby, bound from Shields to Dieppe, with coal, was seen to run on the beach at Holkham during a strong breeze from N.N.E. and a very heavy sea, at about 1 P.M. The Eliza Adams Life-boat, stationed at Wells, Norfolk, proceeded to her aid, and succeeded in rescuing the crew, numbering seven men. The boat was then taken in tow by the steam-tug Promise, of Wells, and the shipwrecked men were safely landed at Wells Quay.—Expense of service, 7l. 10s.

Nov. 1.—At about 3 A.M. signals of distress were observed off Caister, Norfolk, and the Life-boat Covent Garden put off. She proceeded in the direction of the signals, across the Scroby Sand, and found the fishing smack Iron Duke, of London, drifting with her cable paid out, but no anchor, close to the Middle Cross Sand; she had also lost her mainmast. The Life-boatmen boarded her, hove in her cable, and, with the aid of a steam-tug, took her, with her crew of six men, safely into harbour. The vessel had been in tow of another smack, but had got adrift during the night.

Nov. 4.—Voted also 426l. 19s. to pay the expenses of the Life-boats at North Berwick, Piel, Penarth, Giles's Quay, Penzance, Cleethorpes, Wells, Kessingland, Falmouth, Poole, Caister, Donna Nook, Barmouth, Cahore, Bridlington, Fleetwood, Holy Island, Hope Cove, Newbiggin, Courtown Middlesborough, Humstanton, Seaton Carew, Gorleston, Winterton, Palling, Skegness, Theddlethorpe, Cresswell, Montrose, Drogheda, and Chapel, in assembling their crews or putting off to the aid of vessels not ultimately needing the assistance of the boats.

The Ramsgate Lifeboat had also been out in reply to distress signals, but her services were not eventually needed.

Voted the Silver Medal of the Institution, and a copy of the vote inscribed on vellum, to JOHN OWSTON, coxswain of the Scarborough Life-boat, in acknowledgment of his general gallant services in that boat, and particularly for going out four times in the Life-boat during the severe gale of the 28th and 29th October, and assisting to rescue the crews, numbering in all twenty-eight persons, from five different wrecks.

Extra rewards were also granted to the crew of the Life-boat for their gallant exertions on these occasions.

Also the Second Service Clasp of the Institution to HENRY FREEMAN, coxswain of the Whitby Life-boats, in acknowledgment of his gallant services in taking command of the Life-boats on four occasions on the 28th October, and assisting to save the crews, numbering in all twenty-two men, from four distressed vessels.

Extra rewards were also granted to the crews of the Life-boats for their gallant conduct on these occasions.

Nov. 6.—At 7 P.M. the Caister Life-boat Covent Garden put off to the s.s. Swan, of Liverpool, which had gone on Hasborough Sand. With the aid of two steam-tugs the vessel, which was leaking badly, was taken to Harwich.

Nov. 14.—At about 5.30 P.M. an easterly gale sprang up, accompanied by a heavy sea. The schooner Ada, of Beaumaris, bound from Plymouth to Runcorn, with china clay, had taken refuge in Ramsey Bay, as she was leaking badly, and her crew had been for forty-eight hours at the pumps. As the gale increased she slipped her cable and ran for the harbour, but missed it and went ashore. The Two Sisters Life-boat, stationed at Ramsey, proceeded to her assistance, and safely landed her crew of four men, who were in a very exhausted condition.—Expense of service, 15*l.* 6*s.*

Nov. 14.—At 11 P.M. signals of distress were shown by the schooner Queen of the Isles, of Carnarvon. The wind was blowing a whole gale from the N.N.E., and a heavy sea was running. The George Moore Life-boat, stationed at Portdinllaen, proceeded to her, and brought ashore her crew of three men.—Expense of service, 14*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.*

Nov. 16.—At about 1 P.M. the gale again sprang up, accompanied by a very heavy sea, and the schooner's crew, who had meanwhile gone back to her, were afraid that she would part her chains. They therefore made signals of distress, in response to which the Life-boat went out and again brought them ashore.—Expense of service, 7*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*

Nov. 16.—The Ladies' Own Life-boat, stationed at St. Andrews, N.B., put off on the morning of the 16th November to the assistance of the schooner Roseneath, of Hull, which was near the breakers on the sandbanks off St. Andrews during a strong E. gale and very heavy sea, accompanied by heavy showers of sleet. It was found that the master had lost his reckoning. His real position was explained to him, and as the wind had then veered round to the N. he made sail to the eastward, and proceeded out of the bay.—Expense of service, 12*l.* 8*s.* 6*d.*

Nov. 16.—At about 5 A.M., in reply to signals of distress, the Caister Life-boat Covent Garden proceeded to the Middle Scroby Sand, and found the s.s. Ringdove, of Liverpool, ashore there in the midst of the breakers. With great difficulty and risk the Life-boat succeeded in getting near the vessel, and communication having been effected, some of the shipwrecked men were hauled on board the Life-boat by means of lines, and as the stern of the Life-boat sheered to the ship, others of the crew came down the mizzen rigging, and eventually sixteen men were got on board. Only one seaman remained; he was lowering himself down by a rope, when he was unfortunately crushed between the boat and the ship, and perished. Heavy seas were breaking over the boat and ship all the time. The vessel was on a voyage from Riga to Newport, Mon.—Expense of service, 25*l.*

Nov. 16.—At 12.30 P.M. the schooner Jane Louisa, of Londonderry, bound from Liverpool to Dublin, with a cargo of coal, was seen in distress outside Holyhead breakwater during a heavy N. gale and very high sea. The Life-boat Thomas Fielden went to her assistance in tow of a steam-tug, and with great difficulty put six men on board the vessel to assist, and eventually she was towed safely into the old harbour. She had a crew of five men.

Nov. 20.—During a fresh gale from the E.N.E., with snow and hail, signals were fired by the Goodwin Sands Lightships, and a barque was seen ashore on the Sands. The Ramsgate Life-boat Bradford proceeded to her assistance, in tow of the harbour steam-tug Vulcan, and when nearing her the masts were seen to fall over. The Life-boat was then slipped from the tug, and made sail for the vessel. On arriving near, the boat's anchor was let go, and she was veered in to leeward among the wreckage, but could not get alongside. The crew of the barque then watching their opportunity between the heavy seas, which were breaking completely over the vessel, climbed along the broken masts to the Life-boat, and thus the whole of the men, eleven in number, were rescued. The barque was the Freden, of Krageroe, Norway, with a cargo of deals.

Nov. 22.—At about 10 A.M. a strong E.S.E. wind sprang up, and the sea became very heavy off Montrose, N.B. About thirty of the Ferryden fishing-boats had proceeded to sea earlier in the morning, and several of them ran back, some of them losing their lines. At about noon some of the boats were seen to be in considerable danger, and the Montrose Life-boat Mincing Lane went out and attended about twenty of them safely over the bar. The last one—the Nautilus—a large decked herring boat, went broadside on to the sea, in a lull, when approaching the bar, and would have been driven on to the rocks and lost, had not the Life-boat got a line from her and towed her clear of the rocks and safely over the bar. She had a crew of six men.

Nov. 22.—The Thomas Wilson Life-boat, stationed at Whitburu, brought ashore eight men from the steam-tug Crusader, of Sunderland, which had stranded on Whitburn Rocks during foggy weather. The eight men had gone on board to try to get her afloat, but towards high water a very strong sea rose, and they were compelled to make signals for the Life-boat.—Expense of service, 14*l.* 10*s.*

Nov. 23.—The Flamborough No. 2 Life-boat went out at about 10.45 P.M., and rescued the crew, consisting of eight men, from the brig

Tartar, of Salcombe, which was wrecked on the rocks off Flamborough during a S. by E. gale and very heavy sea. The vessel was on a voyage from Whitstable to Shields with a cargo of chalk.—Expense of service, 18l.

Nov. 23.—At about 3 A.M. the Montrose Life-boat Mincing Lane put off to the aid of a schooner which was reported to be showing signals southward of Montrose. With great difficulty and danger the Life-boat was forced over the bar, on which the sea was breaking very heavily, and went alongside the vessel. She proved to be the Morton Castle, of Montrose, bound to that port from Sunderland, with coal. She was waiting for a tug, but was in a very perilous position near the rocks, and in much danger of being driven on to them. The master, on account of the foggy haze, was not aware that he was so near them, and on being informed of his position, all sail was made, and a light breeze from the N.W. springing up, the vessel was enabled to stand off. Had it not been for the Life-boat there is little doubt that the vessel would have gone on the rocks, and that her crew of five men would have been lost.

Nov. 23.—In the evening a steamer was reported to be ashore about a mile northward of Staithes, Yorkshire. The Staithes Life-boat Hannah Somersel put off to her assistance, and found she was the s.s. Madeline, of West Hartlepool, bound from the Baltic to Grimsby. The Life-boat remained by the vessel during the night, at the request of the master, in readiness to land the crew if necessary; but fortunately her services were not further needed.

Nov. 23.—The St. Andrew's Life-boat put off and rendered assistance to two fishing-boats which were in danger while making for the harbour.

Nov. 25.—In the morning during a fresh gale from the W.S.W., and a heavy sea, the barque Haab, of Moss, Norway, bound from New York to Rotterdam, with a cargo of grain, grounded on the outer end of the Roar Bank off this part of the coast, and commenced to strike heavily on the sand. After a time she hoisted a signal of distress, in response to which the Lydd Life-boat David Hullett, and the New Romney Life-boat Dr. Hatton, promptly proceeded to her assistance. She was found to be in a leaky state when the Life-boatmen boarded her, but in the course of an hour or so she was got afloat and proceeded to Dover, which, with the help of steam-tugs, was reached in safety, the Life-boats keeping in company in case of accident, and some men of their crews helping at the pumps.

Nov. 26.—The schooner Braes of Moray, of Peterhead, was observed ashore on the Out Cars rocks, at about 6 A.M., on the 26th November. The Newbiggin Life-boat William Hopkinson of Brighthouse, was at once got out, several of the fishermen's wives assisting to launch her, and the boat then proceeded through a very heavy sea, to the vessel. The wind was blowing a strong gale from the S.E. On reaching her it was found that she was fast filling with water; the crew of five men were then taken into the Life-boat, and safely landed. Before the boat regained the shore, nothing could be seen of the vessel except a small portion of her topmast.—Expense of service 18l. 15s. 6d.

Nov. 26.—During a gale of wind from the W.S.W., with rain, the schooners Caroline and Phœnician, at anchor in Scrabster Roads, exhibited signals of distress, in response to which the Thurso Life-boat Charley Lloyd was launched, and brought ashore their crews, numbering eight men.—Expense of service, 9l. 12s.

Nov. 26.—On the night of the 26th November intelligence reached the Carnsore, Co. Wexford, Life-boat station that a ship was in distress about two miles and a half to the westward of Kilmore, which is twelve miles from Carnsore. Without loss of time the coxswain procured horses, and the Life-boat started on its carriage by land, arriving at Kilmore about 7 o'clock on the following morning. The coxswain, however, thought it would not be desirable to launch the boat there, so he took her to Ballyhealy, where, after some delay, a volunteer crew was mustered and the boat launched. All efforts to make the wreck were, however, unsuccessful, principally on account of the very heavy seas and the wreckage floating about in the vicinity. Ultimately the boat returned to the shore, and remained there until the next morning, when her crew manned her and proceeded out. She was then happily the means of saving all on the stranded ship, consisting of the master, mate, fourteen seamen, a boy, and two women. The barque was the John A. Harvie, of Windsor, N.S., bound from New York to Dublin, with a cargo of Indian corn.—Expense of services, 40l. 11s.

Nov. 27.—At about 9 A.M. the Robert William Life-boat, stationed at Blackpool, proceeded to the aid of the barque Medora, of Laurvig, which was observed to be drifting into a dangerous position. One of the Life-boatmen was put on board the vessel and piloted her to Fleetwood, to which port she was bound with a cargo of timber.

Dec. 1.—The coxswain of the Swansea Life-boat received a telegram from the harbour-master at Port Talbot shortly before 5 P.M., stating that a vessel was ashore on Port Talbot bar. The wind was blowing from the N., with a heavy ground swell. The Life-boat Wolverhampton at once put off and proceeded to the vessel, which proved to be the schooner Pet, of Falmouth, bound thence to Port Talbot, with copper ore. Her crew of five men were clinging to the foretopmast rigging, and were in a most exhausted state. They were taken into the Life-boat, and landed safely at Port Talbot. The vessel became a total wreck. Expense of service, 14l. 4s.

Dec. 1.—The Thurso Life-boat went out in response to signals of distress shown from the schooner Catherine and Ellen, which had been overtaken by a strong gale from the N.N.W., and which had brought up far out in the bay. The crew of six men were taken into the boat and safely landed at Scrabster.—Expense of service, 6l. 12s.

Dec. 2.—Voted 261l. to pay the expenses of the Life-boats at Hornsea, Solva, Suttou, Kingstown, Tyrella, Newcastle Co. Down, Broadstairs, North Deal, Tenby, Holy Island, New Brighton, Broughty Ferry, Nairn, Kingsdowne, Brightstone Grange, and Longhope, in assembling their crews, or putting off to the aid of vessels which did not ultimately need their assistance.

The Ramsgate Life-boat had also been taken out, but her services had not been eventually needed.

Dec. 9.—The wind suddenly became squally, increasing to a gale from the W. off Ballywalter, Co. Down. A large open boat, manned by two men and a boy, and having but one broken oar on board, was swept some distance out to sea, as she was unable to stand up to her sail. As the gale was increasing, and the boat was in great danger and showing signals of distress, the Ballywalter Life-boat Admiral Henry Meynell put off to her assistance, and brought her safely ashore.—Expense of service, 5*l.* 16*s.*

Dec. 10.—The Thurso Life-boat brought ashore the crews, numbering in all eighteen men, of the schooners Caroline, Seaward, Phœnicium, and Reaper. A very severe gale from the W.N.W. had suddenly sprung up, causing a tremendous sea in the bay, and had the wind gone a little more to the northward the sea would have been driven into Scrabster Roads, and the four vessels would have been in imminent peril of being wrecked.—Expense of service, 6*l.* 14*s.* 6*d.*

Dec. 13.—At noon a mounted messenger came to Exmouth from Budleigh Salterton, and reported a fishing-boat in great danger about three miles east of the former place. The Victoria Life-boat was speedily launched, and proceeded to the boat, which was found to be in danger of being driven on to the rocks, her crew being totally exhausted. The Life-boat took the boat in tow, and brought her and the four men on board safely to Exmouth.—Expense of service, 9*l.* 9*s.*

Dec. 18.—In the afternoon the brig Warkworth Castle, of Amble, bound to that port from Gloucester in ballast, drove ashore in a snow-storm on Bondicar Rocks, near the Hauxley, Northumberland, Life-boat station. Her signals of distress were observed, and the Coastguard, by means of the rocket apparatus, sent a line on board; the Life-boat Algernon and Eleanor also proceeded to the wreck through a rough sea. She soon reached the spot, and saved the crew of nine men, who were landed about 8 o'clock in the evening. On this occasion the women helped to launch the Life-boat, as many of the men were engaged with the Rocket Brigade.—Expense of service, 15*l.*

Dec. 9.—About 10 o'clock in the morning the brig William Hill, of Dundalk, was seen making for Ayr Harbour, during a S.W. gale.

She was unmanageable, from loss of greater part of her canvas and weakness of her crew from long exposure. In approaching the harbour, she struck the North Pier with considerable force, and drifted on to the gravel bank on the N. side of the harbour, where she was totally wrecked. The Glasgow Workman Life-boat, stationed at Ayr, was launched, and, after two attempts, reached the wreck and rescued three of the crew. The vessel carried a crew of five men. One of them had been washed overboard, and another died before he was brought ashore.—Expense of service, 26*l.* 1*s.* 3*d.*

Dec. 19.—During a very heavy gale from the W.N.W., the Ardrossan Life-boat Fair Maid of Perth, was launched, at 3.50 p.m., and rescued the crew, consisting of eight men, from the Swedish brig Clio, which had stranded at the back of the Montgomerie Street Breakwater while making for Ardrossan Harbour. The brig was bound from Troon to Demerara with coal.—Expense of service, 7*l.* 15*s.*

Dec. 23.—At 5.30 a.m., the British Workman Life-boat stationed at Palling, Norfolk, proceeded to the Hasborough Sand, in reply to signals of distress, during a strong W.N.W. wind and heavy sea. On arriving there, she found the s.s. Earl Percy, of Newcastle, ashore, having on board fifty passengers, a crew of twenty-one, and a general cargo. The Life-boat remained by her and rendered assistance, and after a time she came off the sand, with loss of rudder. A steam-tug then arrived and took her in tow, some of the Life-boatmen going on board her, and the Life-boat steering; but they had not gone far when the Life-boat broke adrift, and had to return to her station. The steamer completed her voyage in safety.

Dec. 24.—At 1 o'clock in the morning a flare was observed about a mile north of Winterton. The crew of the Life-boat Husband assembled, and the boat went out and found the schooner Barbara, of Carnarvon, stranded on the beach. She remained by her until 10 p.m., and then got her afloat and took her to Yarmouth. She was bound from Newcastle to London, with fire-bricks, tiles, and clay, and had a crew of four men.

Dec. 28.—The Theddlethorpe Life-boat brought ashore three men from the Danish schooner Fortuna, which had sunk near Saltfleet Haven. The Donna Nook Life-boat also put off to the aid of the vessel, and remained by her for some time.—Expense of services, 40*l.* 19*s.* 6*d.*

SHORE-BOAT SERVICES REWARDED IN 1880.

Jan. 1.—Voted the Silver Medal of the Institution, with a copy of the vote inscribed on vellum, to the EARL of DUNMORE, and 5*l.* to three fishermen, in acknowledgment of their gallant services in putting off in an open boat, and proceeding, at one o'clock in the morning, a distance of eleven miles through a very heavy sea, and bringing ashore the passengers, seven in number, of the yacht Astarte, of Glasgow, which vessel had sunk in the Sound of Harris, N.B., during a hurricane from the S.W., on the 22nd

September, 1879, those on board her having to take refuge on a small island.

Jan. 27.—Two men put off in a boat and assisted to save sixteen seamen belonging to H.M.S. Hecla, from a wherry which had been run into by a steamer off Portsmouth.—Reward, 2*l.*

Jan. 29.—Five men put off in a boat and saved four men from the boat of the schooner Viscata, of New Quay, Cardiganshire, which had sunk about twelve miles W. of Bardsey. The men had been in the boat about twelve hours, and were much exhausted, having been pulling all night, and the weather being intensely cold.—Reward, 2*l*.

Feb. 5.—Voted 1*l*. to Mr. JOHN BYNOW, chief boatman in charge of H.M. Coastguard at Clontarf, Dublin, and 2*l*. to his crew of four men, for putting off in the Coastguard boat, at some risk, and saving the crew of seven men from the brigantine Alice Woods, of Ardrossan, which was wrecked on the North Bull, Clontarf, during a moderate easterly gale on the 20th November.

Feb. 11.—Mr. KENEALY, Coastguard Officer, and his crew of five men, put off in the Coastguard whale-boat, and saved, at some risk, the crew of four men from the smack Ann, of Dover, which had stranded off No. 2 Battery, Dungeness, Kent, during a strong E. breeze.—Reward, 7*l*.

Feb. 12.—Two men rescued two Coastguard-men, whose boat, while returning ashore from the Coastguard cutter Stag, had been capsized by a heavy sea in Skerries Roads.—Reward, 1*l*.

Feb. 15 & 16.—Thirteen fishermen put off in their boats from Blackrock, Co. Louth, and rescued the crews, numbering in all thirteen men, from the brigantine Parkside, of Whitehaven, brigantine Stella, of Drogheda, and schooner Mary Ann, of Annagasson, which had stranded at Blackrock during a gale from S.E.—Reward 9*l*.

April 4.—Mr. WILLIAM FYNES, Chief Boatman of H.M. Coastguard, and five other men, put off in the Coastguard boat from Ringsend, Dublin, and saved two men from a boat which was in distress off Pigeonhouse Point, during a fresh westerly gale.—Reward, 6*l*.

April 21.—Four men rescued two other men from a yawl which had been upset while boarding the Norwegian barque Nora, off Arthurstown, Co. Waterford, during a gale of wind from S.S.W.—Reward, 2*l*.

May 2.—Two men rescued two other men from a hooker which, while proceeding from Halfmace to Kinwarra, Co. Galway, with seaweed, had been struck by a sudden squall from the N.W., and capsized about a quarter of a mile S. of Mace Head.—Reward, 15*s*.

May 8.—Three men rescued four persons from a boat laden with seaweed, which was in a sinking condition at Island Crone, Co. Donegal, during a fresh N.E. gale.—Reward, 1*l*. 10*s*.

May 18.—Three men saved three persons from a skiff which, while crossing Carlingford Bar during a S.E. wind, had sunk, the boat being leaky, and a strong flood tide running at the time.—Reward, 1*l*. 2*s*. 6*d*.

June 11.—Three men put off in a curragh and saved two other men from a boat which had been capsized in Ballinakill Bay, Co. Galway, during a fresh S.W. wind.—Reward, 1*l*. 10*s*.

June 16.—The master and crew of the schooner Margaret, of Fleetwood, saved the crew of three men of the schooner Salus, of Wig-town, which had caught fire in Wigtown Bay.—Reward, 5*l*.

July 9.—Three men went out in a boat and saved four persons whose boat, while passing through Elbow Sound, Slyne Head, had missed stays and grounded during a N. wind.—Reward, 1*l*. 10*s*.

Sept. 15.—Mr. R. MILLER, Coxswain of the North Berwick Life-boat, three of the crew of that boat, and nine other men, waded into the sea and rescued the crew of the schooner Stella, of Drogheda, which was totally wrecked near Sealcliffe during a N.E. gale and heavy sea.—Reward, 8*l*. 10*s*.

Oct. 10.—Twenty men put off from Corton, in the salvage boat Refuge, and, at much risk, saved the crew of seven men from the brigantine Hope, of Portsmouth, which foundered suddenly off Corton during squally weather.—Reward, 10*l*.

Oct. 28.—Twenty-three Whitby men rescued, by means of a hawser, the crew, consisting of five men, from the schooner Sarah, of Portsmouth, which was wrecked at Uppang, Yorkshire, during a hurricane from the E.N.E.—Reward, 7*l*. 15*s*.

Oct. 29.—Eleven men saved, by means of lines, the crew, consisting of six men, from the brig Violet, of Whitby, which was wrecked on Holkham Beach, Norfolk, during a heavy gale from the E.N.E.—Reward, 6*l*.

Nov. 4.—Voted the Silver Medal of the Institution, and a copy of the vote inscribed on vellum, to Mr. N. G. HATCH, mate of the ship Berkshire, of London, and 4*l*. to four of the crew of that vessel, for putting off in a boat and saving two of the crew of the brig Marys, of Whitby, which was wrecked on the Black Rock, at the entrance to Falmouth Harbour, during a heavy E.N.E. gale and high sea on the 22nd October.

Also the thanks of the Institution, inscribed on vellum, to Captain RICHARD SHERRIS, harbour-master at Falmouth, and 1*l*. 10*s*. to the crew of three men of his steam launch, for rescuing the master of the above-named vessel.

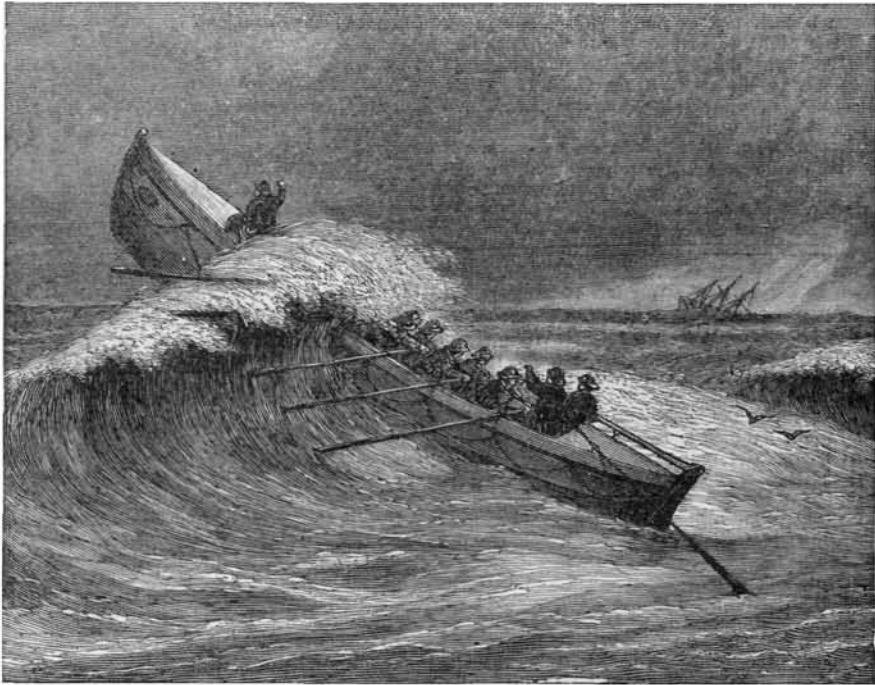

Also 1*l*. to three men for rescuing the crew of two men from the schooner Esther Mary, of Cardigan, which was wrecked near Balbriggan, Co. Dublin, during stormy weather on the 9th of May.

Nov. 16.—Four men put off in a boat and rescued four men from a punt which was in danger off Kessingland, during a moderate breeze from the E.—Reward, 1*l*.

Nov. 25.—Eleven men put off in a coble and rescued the crew of two men from the ketch Isabella, of Lynn, which was wrecked on the rocks off Redcar, Yorkshire, during a strong S.W. gale.—Reward, 5*l*. 10*s*.

Dec. 2.—Voted the thanks of the Institution to Mr. WILLIAM PREVIL, of Redcar, for assisting to save, by means of a rope, the crew of the German barque Minna, which had stranded off Redcar, on the 28th November.

List of the Services of the Life-boats of the National Life-boat Institution during the Storms of January last.

NEW BRIGHTON.—On the 4th January, 1881, at 3.45 A.M., in reply to signals of distress, the Life-boat Willie and Arthur proceeded to the Asque Spit and found the s.s. Brazilian, of Barrow, ashore there. After the boat's arrival the steamer broke in two and filled with water, and her crew were then taken off by the Life-boat and put on board the Dock Board tender Vigilant. The steamer was bound from Boston to Liverpool, and had on board between seven hundred and eight hundred head of cattle.

MONTROSE, N.B.—At about midnight on the 4th January it was reported that two of the large fishing-boats were ashore on the Annat Bank. The Mincing Lane Life-boat was at once manned by a crew of fishermen, and proceeded to their aid. The fishing-boat Magdalen was found full of water, with the sea breaking over her, and the crew (two of whom were sons of the coxswain of the Life-Boat) had taken refuge on board the other boat, the Star of Peace, which was farther up on the bank, and partly sheltered by the Magdalen, but would have been in considerable danger as the tide flowed. Both the crews, numbering in all twelve men, were taken into the Life-boat and safely landed.

HARWICH.—On the 6th January, at about 7.30 A.M., a brigantine was seen ashore on the Halliday Sands with a flag of distress flying. In a short time she drifted on to Pye Sand, where the masts were cut away. The Life-boat Springwell proceeded to her aid and found her to be sinking. Seven of the crew and a woman were taken into the Life-boat, but the master, mate, and boatswain, refused to leave. These eight persons were landed at midday, and as the weather continued exceedingly rough the boat returned for the others. The sea was then making clean breaches over the vessel, and the three men therefore left her and were brought safely ashore by the Life-boat. The vessel proved to be the Spanish schooner Rosita, bound from Hamburg to Porto Rico, with a general cargo.

The service of the same Life-boat on the 20th January, is thus reported in The East Anglian Daily Times:—

“Those who were on Harwich pier between nine and ten on the morning of the 21st January, will not readily forget the scene presented on the return of the Life-boat Springwell from the errand of mercy on which she left port about seven o'clock last evening. When our parcel left last night we were just able to report that the boat was getting ready to put to sea in response to signals from the Cork Lightship. The brave men were all too anxious to go, and more volunteers came forward than could be taken. A few minutes before seven a crew of twelve hands were fully equipped, and the boat started under the command of the second coxswain, WILLIAM BRITTON, Captain NEFEAN, R.N., the Institution's district inspector also being on board. The work of getting out of the harbour, however, was long and tedious. The frost had been so severe that a way had to be cut right to the harbour's mouth. Britton then turned the head of the boat to the Cork Light, when he was told that a smack had spoken with the mate and informed him that there was a steamship on the Sunk Sand with her crew lashed to the rigging. The Life-boat was put about for the Sunk, and at the Swin fell in with the smack Albatross, which took them in tow for some distance, and gave them directions where to find the wreck. The master of the Albatross, in answer to questions by Britton, said he had seen men in the rigging of the wreck, and he had left them at dark. After leaving the smack sail was got on to the Life-boat, and between four and five this morning the wreck was sighted. On approaching nearer seven men were seen lashed to the foremast. The hull of the vessel was completely under water. Britton hailed to know if any of the poor fellows were alive, and, getting a moan in reply, anchor was let go, and grappings thrown out. A life-line was made fast to the wreck, and the boat hauled up, but the strain was too much for the line, which parted. The poor fellows in the rigging, seeing the Life-boat receding from them, cried out in their fear, 'Don't leave us, or we shall fall into the sea directly. Come this moment, or we shall drop off. We can't hold out any longer.' A second life-line was made fast, and with this the gallant Life-boat was hauled close up. Her crew boarded the wreck and helped the poor fellows down from where they were lashed, and assisted them into the boat, which at once headed back for Harwich. The vessel turned out to be the screw steamship Ingerid, of Rotterdam, 438 tons, laden with fish from Norway for Naples. Her crew all told consisted of sixteen hands. She struck the sands on Monday, and on Tuesday morning a boat with seven of the crew on board left the wreck to try and reach land, whilst two more were lost overboard—one when the boat left, and another in attempting to get a second boat out. That night the captain and six men left on board had to seek refuge in the foremast, lashing themselves to it for fear of falling into the boiling sea beneath them. In this position they remained until rescued by the Life-boat on Friday morning. What their sufferings were none can tell during the four nights and three days they were on the sands in the searching wind and biting frost, without any possibility of getting either food or drink. Just off the Gork the Life-boat met the Lowestoft tug Despatch, which was leaving Harwich with the Lowestoft Life-boat in tow, having come over on Thursday in response to a telegram asking for assistance in consequence of the Springwell having been damaged during Tuesday's gale. Finding that the Life-boat had seven poor fellows on board, the tug turned back, and towed her into harbour, reaching the pier about a quarter before ten. The appearance of the Life-boat was greeted with a loud cheer from the crowd assembled awaiting the return of the Springwell. On coming alongside the pier the occupants of the boat presented a frightful spectacle. The faces of the poor shipwrecked sailors were so blackened with frost that they looked as if they had all been in a horrible fighting affray, whilst their limbs were stiff and useless. They were at once taken into the restaurant at the pier hotel, the Dutch Consul, and the hon. secretary of the Harwich Life-boat Branch, Mr. A. P. BRAY, giving the necessary directions for attention to their wants. When stripped, it was discovered that the legs and feet of all seven men were severely frost-bitten, being black and red from the exposure to the cold, whilst the flesh under the nails of their hands and part of their fingers were also blackened. Mr. MORGAN, surgeon, who had been summoned by Mr. BRAY, did everything possible to relieve the sufferers, and as quickly as possible five of the men were got upstairs to bed, when they were supplied with hot coffee and meat. Dr. EVANS attended shortly after. The captain, VAN DER STOOK, and the mate POPPINGA, however, declined to go to bed, the former, whose legs were the worst from frost, preferring to sit up and have his limbs rubbed with snow, whilst the latter, a hardy old salt of sixty-two years, who had gone through former shipwrecks, and in 1836 lost part of the little toe of the right foot from frost-bite, called for a bath of cold brine, in which he placed his feet. The names of those saved are the captain, Van der Stook; the mate, Poppinga; the chief engineer, Steerard, the stoker, Andersen; and three seamen, Bokker, Goedgeluk, and A. Vos. There can be no doubt that the seven men who got away in the boat are lost. The boat was all right so long as it could be seen by those left behind, but it is impossible to believe that it could have lived long in such a sea as that of Tuesday morning. There were two tugs in the harbour last night when the Springwell started—the Despatch, of Lowestoft, and the Harwich, owned by Mr. J. H. VAUX, but they were unable to render assistance, not having any coal on board. After the rescued men were taken care of, Mr. BOLTON, manager of the Great Eastern Hotel, called the Life-boat crew in, and with a thoughtfulness fully appreciated by the men, set a hot meat breakfast before them, which was most heartily accepted. The service of the Life-boat lasted sixteen hours, half of which time the crew were at the oars at one stretch.

"About two o'clock this morning the smack Increase entered the harbour, and gave information of the wreck on the Sunk, not having fallen in with the Life-boat as she ran for the port.

"The chief engineer, Steerard, who has suffered greatly from frost-bite, says:—'We were on our way from Norway to Naples with a cargo of fish. On Monday the weather came over hazy, with a strong wind east-north-east, during which we struck on the Sunk, about two miles below the Sunk Lightship. We were unable to get off, and all that night we were in the fore-castle, praying to our Great Creator. Shortly before noon on Tuesday, a boat was lowered, and eight men got into her to try and reach land, but the second engineer, one of the number, fell overboard and was drowned. The seven men left in the boat parted from us, and we have heard nothing more of them. Whether they reached the shore or perished at sea we do not know. We attempted to get a second boat out, but failed, the second fireman being lost overboard in the confusion. That night we had to take to the foremast, to which we lashed ourselves, the deck being completely swept by the waves, which were running with terrible force. The cold was horrible, and we hardly knew how to bear it. During that day I saw several steamers pass us, but the sea was too high for them to be able to do anything for us. On the next day the wind went down, and the weather became calmer, continuing so throughout Thursday. On both these days I saw vessels passing, and thought it hard that none should attempt to get near and lend us a hand to get away from our terrible position. The deck was under water, and we could not leave our places on the mast to get food or drink. As Thursday night closed in we saw a smack pass, and at half-past four this morning we were overjoyed to see the Life-boat approaching. We had throughout said our grace to our Maker, but had well nigh given up all hopes of being saved. Our limbs were frozen, and we could not have held out much longer. I am sure that if the boat had not come when she did we must all have died from cold and starvation."

RAMSGATE.—Captain BRAINE, the harbour-master of Ramsgate, in reporting the noble service rendered by the Ramsgate Life-boat on the 6th January, on the occasion of the wreck of the ship Indian Chief, on the Long Sands, states that the vessel struck on the Sands at 2.30 A.M. on the 5th of January, but that nothing was known on shore of the wreck until nearly noon that day. In a quarter of an hour after the intelligence had reached Ramsgate, the harbour steamer Vulcan and the Life-boat Bradford were on their way to the Sands, notwithstanding that they were nearly thirty miles away from the port. Having such a long distance to traverse, in a fresh gale from the E.N.E., and a very heavy sea, they did not reach the Kentish Knock Lightship until 5 P.M. on that day, by which time it was nearly dark, and although they were given the bearings of the wreck, they were unable to find it in the darkness. With great courage and determination, the Life-boatmen then resolved to stay by the Sands until daybreak, involving their further exposure for fourteen hours in an open boat in a tremendous sea, the weather at the time being extremely cold. The steamer and Life-boat, therefore, cruised about between the Sands throughout the night, exposed to the whole fury of the storm. The steamer had her sponsons washed away, and one of the deck-houses damaged by the heavy seas, but happily no further casualty occurred. The suffering the Life-boatmen endured during that bitter night was, if anything, in excess of what was experienced by those on the ill-fated ship; but with the dawn of day their reward came, for they then caught sight of the wreck. There was only the foremast standing, the main and mizzen masts having given way and gone overboard during the night, carrying with them the master and sixteen of the crew, all of whom were lost. With infinite risk and difficulty the Life-boat was then taken as near as possible to the wreck, and the survivors of the ship's crew, twelve in number, were got into the boat, one by one making their way along the rail of the vessel between the seas which were continually breaking over her. The Life-boat's cable was then slipped, sail was made, and she sailed across the Sands, through the heavy broken water, to the steamer, which took her in tow and proceeded for the harbour, which was safely reached soon after 2 P.M., after an absence of twenty-six hours. It may be added that three other Life-boats, stationed respectively at Harwich and Clacton (Essex), and Aldborough (Suffolk), also proceeded to the succour of the shipwrecked crew, but they were unable to render any service, notwithstanding that some of them remained out many hours, in the hope that they might be able to help the unfortunate seamen. The ship Indian Chief belonged to Liverpool, and was outward bound from Middlesborough to Japan, with a general cargo.

Captain Braine added: "Of all the meritorious services performed by the Ramsgate tug and Life-boat, I consider this is one of the best. The decision the coxswain and crew arrived at to remain till daylight, which was in effect to continue for fourteen hours cruising about, with the sea continually breaking over them, in a heavy gale and tremendous sea, proves, I consider, their gallantry and determination to do their duty. The coxswain and crew of the Life-boat speak in the highest terms of her good qualities. They state that when sailing across the Long Sand, after leaving the wreck, the seas were tremendous, and the boat behaved most admirably. Some of the shipwrecked crew have since stated that they were fearful, on seeing the frightful-looking seas they were passing through, that they were in more danger in the Life-boat than when lashed to the mast of their sunken ship, as they thought it impossible for any boat to live through such a sea."

On the 14th January, at 5.30 A.M., during a moderate breeze from the N.N.E., with snow squalls, the Bradford Life-boat and harbour steam-tug Vulcan, went out in response to signals of distress, and brought the schooner Minnie Coles, of Southampton, safely into harbour, that vessel having gone ashore on the N.E. part of the Goodwin Sands. She was on a voyage from London to Belfast, with a cargo of superphosphate and two and a half tons of gunpowder, and had a crew of five men. In going out to the vessel, the snow squalls were so thick that it was occasionally necessary to stop the tug's engines.

Again on the 19th January, at 10.15 P.M., during a moderate gale from the N.E., the Life-boat Bradford and harbour steam-tug Aid proceeded to the assistance of the ship Attila, of Newcastle, which had lost her fore and main masts, and was riding near the Long Sand with a signal of distress flying. Four of the Life-boatmen went on board the vessel to render assistance, and the Life-boat returned to the tug to request her to take the ship in tow. The steamer, however, had not sufficient coal on board to enable her to take the vessel to a place of safety. The tug and Life-boat therefore returned to Ramsgate and obtained a supply. At 12.30 A.M. the Life-boat and tug again went out, having on board eleven of the crew of the Attila, who had been landed at Ramsgate by a fishing vessel. At daylight they reached the ship, put the eleven men on board her, and eventually towed her towards the North Foreland. The Life-boat then proceeded ashore to obtain the service of a pilot and another tug, arriving in the harbour at 9.15 P.M. A pilot having been obtained, and another steam-tug having been engaged, the ship was ultimately taken to Gravesend. The

Attila was bound from Shields to Spezzia with a cargo of coal and coke, is 1,146 tons register, and carried a crew of twenty-two men.

CLACTON-ON-SEA.—The Life-boat Albert Edward put off at about 5.30 P.M. on the 6th January, in reply to signals of distress from the Swin Middle Lightship. The wind was blowing a gale from the E., and the sea was very heavy. On reaching the Lightship they learnt that a barque was ashore on the Maplin Sands. The Life-boat sighted her at 8 P.M., but she could not get alongside until the flood tide made, when she boarded her, and brought the master ashore to telegraph for instructions, arriving at Clacton at 11 A.M. The Life-boat afterwards, at the request of the captain, took him back to the vessel, which was the barque Hertha, of Christiansund in ballast.

Signals of distress from the Middle Lightship were observed on the morning of the 19th January. The same Life-boat was launched and proceeded to a schooner which was found to be sunk with the lower masts' heads out of water. As no one was on the masts the Life-boat made for the Gunfleet, but did not find any vessel in distress; she then crossed the sand at the West Buoy and stood toward the Heaps, and spoke a steamer steering E.N.E., which waved for them to go to the westward. Seeing nothing on the Heaps or Barrows she steered for the Middle Lightship, which reported three sailing vessels and a steamer on the Maplin Sands. On reaching the first vessel she was found to be abandoned. A signal was then made from the Maplin Lighthouse, the boat therefore steered in that direction and soon sighted a dismasted ship. On nearing her, at about 2 P.M., a group of people were seen standing on one of the deck-houses waving a flag. The Life-boat made for her lee bow, the loaded cane was thrown to the crew, who seized it and hauled the boat's cable on board. The sea was making a clean breach over the vessel, and some difficulty was experienced in transferring the crew from her to the Life-boat; eventually, however, this was safely accomplished. The vessel proved to be the brigantine Hasselo, of Hague-sund, bound from Riga to London with oats. The crew, eight in number, had been on the deck-house since noon on the previous day, and had not tasted anything for thirty-three hours. The Life-boat fortunately had some spirits and biscuits on board, which were distributed amongst the men and for which they were very grateful. On returning to shore the Life-boat saw two other vessels, but it was evident that their crews had been able to get ashore. When about three miles below the Middle Lightship signals were seen going up from the Mouse Lightship; but as the cold was so intense and the crew of the brigantine were in such an exhausted state that they would probably not have lived through the night if the boat had gone to the Mouse, it was considered best that the boat should make for Clacton. The Life-boatmen had great difficulty in keeping life in the rescued men by constantly rubbing their limbs, and were much afraid that they would not reach the land alive. They were, however, all safely landed at Clacton at about 4 o'clock on the following morning, and were taken to an hotel, where their wants were attended to.

BERWICK-ON-TWEED.—On the 8th January, about 2.15 p.m., the Albert Victor Life-boat was launched to render assistance to several distressed fishing-boats. The boats went over the bar four times, and accompanied the boats in, taking two of them, having nine men on board, in tow. But for the assistance rendered by the Life-boat the boats would in all probability have been swamped in crossing the bar.

CULLERCOATS.—On the 10th January the Palmerston Life-boat put off to the aid of a fishing-coble which had been caught in a very high sea, rendering it dangerous for her to cross the bar. With the assistance of the Life-boat the coble safely reached the land.

REDCAR.—On the 10th January the Burton-on-Trent Life-boat rescued two men from the fishing-coble Lively, of Redcar, which was in danger about a quarter of a mile off Redcar Beach, and unable to land on account of the very heavy surf, the wind blowing strongly from the N.E.

RUNSWICK.—On the 11th January the Margaret and Edward Life-boat was launched and rendered good service in assisting some Staithes fishing-cobles safely to land.

Again on the 20th January the Staithes fishing-cobles went out to their usual fishing-ground. During the day the sea became very strong, with heavy snow-showers, and when the boats returned at about 4 p.m. they found it was impossible to land at Staithes, and they then made for Runswick. The Margaret and Edward Life-boat thereupon proceeded to their assistance, and remained afloat three hours, assisting the boats to land.

STAITHES.—On the 11th January, about fifty of the Staithes cobles were out, when a gale from the N. suddenly sprang up, accompanied by a heavy sea. The Hannah Somerset Life-boat went off to their aid, and accompanied most of them to the shore. The sea, however, increased, and as it was considered dangerous for the remaining seven cobles to attempt to land at Staithes they were advised to run for Runswick, and they therefore made for that place.

KESSINGLAND, SUFFOLK.—On the 13th January the Life-boat Bolton proceeded to the aid of the sloop Ruby, of Goole, which had been overtaken by a snow squall, and had been dismasted while passing through Pakefield Gap. Seeing that her position was one of much peril, on account of the proximity of dangerous sandbanks, the Life-boat Bolton was quickly launched, and, with the help of a steam-tug, took the vessel safely into Lowestoft Harbour. She was bound from Goole to St. Helens, with coal, and carried a crew of two men.

PALLING, NORFOLK.—On the 15th January, during a moderate gale from the W.N.W., accompanied by heavy snow showers, the British Workman Life-boat was launched in reply to signals of distress, and found the s.s. Trafalgar, of London, ashore on the Hasborough Sand. The Life-boat remained by her for some hours, and finally rescued the crew, twenty-three in number, all of whom were safely landed at Palling, though in a very benumbed condition. The steamer was on a voyage from Shields to Bombay, with a cargo of coal.

CAISTER, NORFOLK.—On the evening of Sunday, 16th January, a letter was received by a messenger from Palling, stating that two ships were on the Hasborough Sand. A steam-tug was obtained from Great Yarmouth, and the Caister No. 2 Life-boat, Godsend, started at about four o'clock on the following morning. On arriving at the Sand the barque North Wales, of London, bound from Newcastle to Java with coal, was found ashore there. The steam-tug endeavoured to tow her off at the flood tide, but could not succeed. At ebb tide the vessel filled, and, as the sea was increasing, her crew of twenty men and a pilot were taken off by the Life-boat and put on board the steamer.

BRIXHAM, DEVON.—At 10.45 A.M. on the 18th January, on the urgent solicitation of a number of experienced master mariners, sailors and seamen, the City of Exeter Life-boat was launched to render assistance to a pilot gig proceeding to put crews on board their vessels then riding in a strong gale from E.S.E. and very heavy sea in Brixham Roads. The crews in the gig were in great danger owing to the heavy sea and the number of vessels. The Life-boat was out nearly five hours in driving snow and a very heavy gale.

PORTHDLINLLAEN, NORTH WALES.—On the 18th January fearful weather was experienced here, and the Life-boat George Moore was twice launched to the assistance of the crews of distressed vessels. The wind was blowing a very heavy gale from the E.N.E., and it was freezing hard when the boat was first launched at half-past one o'clock in the afternoon, and it was only with difficulty that she was enabled to rescue the crew of three men from the smack Fishguard Lass, of Abersoch, which was then at anchor in the bay in a dangerous position, and which shortly afterwards parted her second chain and drove ashore. At about 7.30 in the evening, the gale still blowing very hard from the same direction, the schooner Miss Beck, of Carnarvon, parted her anchors and drove on a rock called Carreg Oysters. The Life-boat quickly proceeded to her assistance, but the vessel was in such an awkward position that the greatest difficulty was experienced in rescuing the crew of five men, the boat being out nearly five hours before she was enabled to accomplish the rescue, and sustaining some damage on the occasion. The Life-boatmen had at last the satisfaction of landing the shipwrecked crew in safety soon after midnight.

WINTERTON, NORFOLK.—The brig Gyda, of Swendsale, Norway, stranded half a mile north of this place on the 18th January. In consequence of the snow-drift it was found impossible to take the Edward Birbeck Life-boat to the scene of the wreck on her carriage. She was then dragged along the shore on her launching-skids by the crew, assisted by a large number of men. When abreast of the wreck she was launched, and was successful in saving four of the crew. The remainder, five in number, had previously been rescued by the rocket apparatus.

ST. IVES, CORNWALL.—On the 18th January a heavy N.E. gale was experienced here, accompanied by snow. During the height of the storm the crew of the Life-boat Exeter, in response to signals, launched their boat to the help of the crew of a vessel which was riding in the bay on a dead lee shore, and which it was seen must inevitably strike. The Life-boat, which is one of the smaller class, 32 feet long, made gallant attempts to get off in the teeth of the storm, and against a tremendous sea, but she was driven back into harbour, the sea knocking several of the oars out of the men's hands. At about 10 A.M. she again proceeded out, and after a severe struggle got alongside, and was successful in saving the crew of five men—not a moment too soon, for the vessel soon afterwards drove on the rocks. She was the schooner Rosa Josephs, of St. Vaast, France, bound from Britonferry to Cherbourg with a cargo of coal.

GREAT YARMOUTH.—At 11.30 A.M. on the 18th January, a ketch was observed on shore on the North Beach. The Life-boat Abraham Thomas immediately proceeded to the spot, and succeeded in rescuing the crew, consisting of four men. The wind at the time was blowing a heavy gale, and the sea was breaking heavily on the beach. The ketch was the Manne de Ciel, a French vessel.

WHITBY.—A telegram was received at about 10.30 A.M. on the 19th January stating that a ship had sunk about six miles southward of this port, and that the crew had been compelled to take to their boat and come to an anchor. A message was sent in reply to say that the Life-boat Robert Whitworth should at once proceed there by road, and requesting that she might be met by men and horses, a gang of men being also despatched to cut the snow in front, which in places was six or seven feet deep. With the help jointly rendered by horses and men from both directions, the Life-boat was got to the scene of the disaster in little more than two hours, and was immediately launched. After pulling for an hour the steer oar and six other oars were broken, and she had to return to shore for a fresh supply. A double crew then manned the boat, and with a cheer she was again launched through terrific seas. After struggling for an hour and a half, the shipwrecked crew of six men were reached, and safely landed at four o'clock. The poor fellows were thoroughly exhausted and benumbed, and it was only with great difficulty that they were brought back to consciousness, with the help of the medical men who were at hand ready to receive them. The Life-boat crew also suffered severely; one of them was so exhausted that he could not for some time return home. The vessel proved to be the brig Visitor, belonging to Whitby. She was bound from Shields to London, with coal.

NAIRN, N.B.—At about noon on the 20th January, information was received that a ship had gone ashore at Fort George, about seven miles W. of Nairn. The Caulfield and Ann Life-boat went to her assistance, and on reaching the scene of the wreck it was found that the sea was very high, and that the ship must soon go to pieces. Lines were hove aboard her, but the crew were too exhausted to make use of them, and it then became necessary for the Life-boat to go alongside. This was done, and with great difficulty the men, three in number, were rescued from their perilous position in an almost helpless state. The vessel proved to be the schooner Annie Marie, of Krageroe, Norway, bound thence to Wick with a cargo of billet wood.

SKEGNESS, LINCOLNSHIRE.—On the 20th January the Herbert Ingram Life-boat rendered some assistance to the brig Matilda, of Gothenburg. Two of the Life-boatmen were put on board the vessel and assisted in taking her to Lynn.

BRIGHSTONE GRANGE, ISLE OF WIGHT.—The steamer Claremont, of Newcastle, was wrecked at Whale Chine, Isle of Wight, on the 27th January. Intelligence of the wreck was received at the Brighstone Grange Life-boat Station, and at about 11.40 P.M. the Life-boat Worcester Cadet proceeded to her assistance. Before this, voices had been heard at sea, and the Coxswain of the Life-boat therefore burnt a light and fired a gun to warn the ship's crew against landing, there being a heavy ground swell. As the tide was ebbing, the Life-boat rowed three miles W.S.W., and then picked up one of the ship's boats containing the mate and five men, who were safely landed at 3.40 on the following morning.

 FOR THE PRESERVATION OF LIFE FROM SHIPWRECK.

Obverse.—Bust of Her Majesty Queen Victoria; beneath, in minute letters, "L. C. Wyon." Double legend, "Royal National Life-boat Institution. Founded in 1824. Incorporated 1860. Victoria, Patroness."
Reverse.—Three sailors in a Life-boat,—one of whom is in the act of rescuing an exhausted mariner from the waves on a fragment of the wreck. "W. Wyon, Mint." Inscription, "Let not the deep swallow me up."

THE beautiful obverse of this medal, executed by L. C. WYON, Esq., represents the bust of QUEEN VICTORIA, Her Majesty's locks gracefully waving and gathered in a knot behind, from which issues a wreath of oak clustering over the forehead. This life-like portrait of the QUEEN, in high relief, conveys a truly pleasing and faithful likeness of HER MAJESTY at that period (1862), combining the dignity of aspect and benevolence which have always characterised the Queen throughout her long and prosperous reign.

The reverse, representing the Life-boat, in which there are three Seamen, rescuing a fourth from the sea, is a work of great merit. Two of the men are steadying the boat, while the other, stooping, draws in the Shipwrecked Sailor, whose figure is given so as to show the form in the most natural manner; and the expression thrown into his countenance looking up to his preserver is supplicating in the extreme, while the easy flowing lines of this sailor are finely contrasted by those of his companions: the whole displaying a perfect knowledge of the human frame, and a command of the graver to embody what he had shadowed out to himself.

But there is another pleasing motive for admiration of this beautiful Medal, as the figure who is so humanely extending his relief to the drowning Mariner is a portrait of the Artist, the late WILLIAM WYON, Esq., R.A., himself.

The following is a List of the GOLD and SILVER MEDALS that have been voted by the Committee of the Institution, since its establishment in 1824, to persons whose humane and intrepid exertions in saving Life from Shipwreck on our Coasts have been deemed sufficiently conspicuous to merit that honourable distinction. The Cases will be found recorded in detail in the several Annual Reports of the Institution.

The total number of Medals granted by the Institution up to the present time is 1,028, 95 of which were in Gold, and 933 in Silver.

Note.—The asterisk (*) after the name denotes the reception of a Gold Medal. The figure after the name signifies the number of honorary distinctions received from the Institution. Abbreviations.—C<sup>t</sup>. G<sup>d</sup>.—Coast Guard. R. C.—Revenue Cruiser. M. M.—Master Mariner.

THE LIFE-BOAT STATION.

THE following brief description and diagrams illustrative of a complete Life-boat Establishment, including the House for the protection of the boat, will serve to convey an idea of the general character of one of the 271 Life-boat Stations of the NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION.

It will be seen that it is a work of a costly nature, and that not only in the first instance, but that a large permanent expense is entailed in keeping the whole machinery in an efficient state, in the re-supply of any part of it which may be destroyed or worn out, in the exercise of the boats' crews, in launching and working the boats, and in remunerating them for their services in saving their fellow-creatures. Yet, looking to the vast importance of the result effected, and the responsibility of calling on men to risk their lives in effecting the same, it is felt that few if any persons will be found who will consider that expense to be incurred in vain.

THE LIFE-BOAT.

The following figures show the general form, the nature of the fittings and air-chambers of one of these boats, 33 feet in length and 8 feet in breadth. In figs. 1 and 2, the elevation and deck plans, the general exterior form of the boat is shown with the sheer of gunwale, length of keel, and rake of stem and stern-posts. The dotted lines of fig. 1 show the position and dimensions of the air-chambers within board, the relieving-tubes, and ballast. In fig 2, A represents the deck, B the relieving-tubes (6 inches in diameter), C the side air-cases, D the end air-chambers, E ballast, F scuttles to admit of a free current of air under the water-tight deck, G scuttle for air, and to receive pump. In fig. 3, the exterior form of transverse sections, at different distances from stem to stern, is shown. Fig. 4 represents a midship transverse section, A being sections of the side air-cases, B the relieving-tubes, of the same depth as the space between the deck and the boat's floor. C, C, C, C, are spaces beneath the deck, placed longitudinally, at the midship part of the boat, with cases packed with cork, forming a portion of the ballast; d scuttle for ventilation, having a pump fixed in it, by which any leakage beneath the deck can be pumped out by one of the crew whilst afloat. The festooned lines in fig. 1 represent exterior life-lines attached round the entire length of the boat, to which persons in the water may cling till they can be got into the boat; the two central lines are festooned lower than the others, to be used as stirrups, so that a person in the water, by stepping on them, may climb into the boat without assistance.

This Life-boat possesses in the highest degree all the qualities which it is desirable that a Life-boat should possess:—

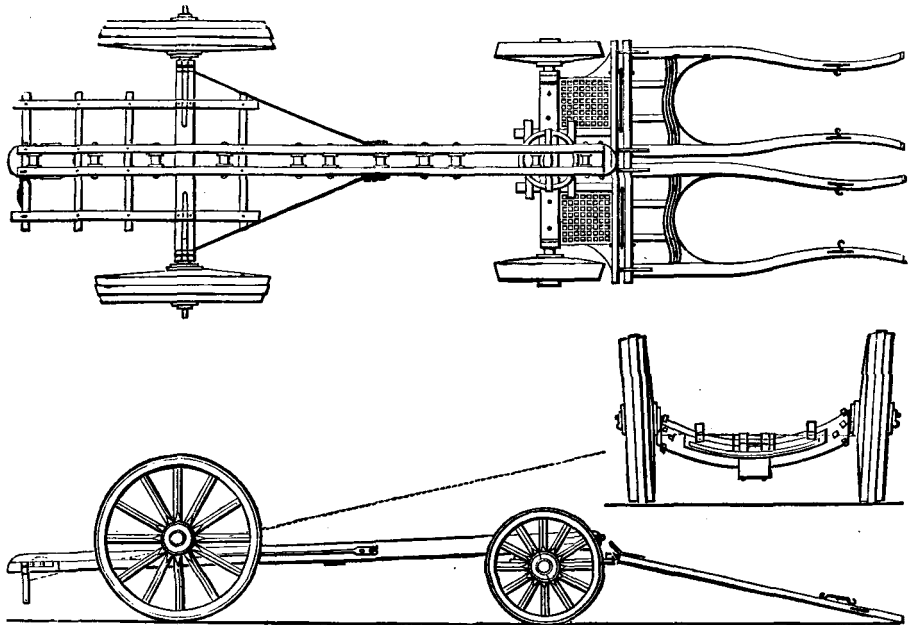

1. Great lateral stability, or resistance to upsetting.
2. Speed against a heavy sea.
3. Facility for launching and taking the shore.
4. Immediate self-discharge of any water breaking into her.
5. The important advantage of self-righting if upset.
6. Strength.
7. Stowage room for a large number of passengers.

THE LIFE-BOAT TRANSPORTING-CARRIAGE.

The Life-boat transporting-carriage is a very important auxiliary to the boat. Every Life-boat, except a few of the larger size, is provided with a carriage, on which she is kept in the boat-house ready for immediate transportation to the most favourable position for launching to a wreck. A Life-boat is thus made available for a greater extent of coast than she otherwise would be; and even when launched from abreast of the boat-house, can be much quicker conveyed to the water's edge than she could be if not on a carriage. In addition to this ordinary use, a carriage is of immense service in launching a boat from a beach, to that extent, indeed, that one can be readily launched from a carriage through a high surf, when without one she could not be got off the beach.

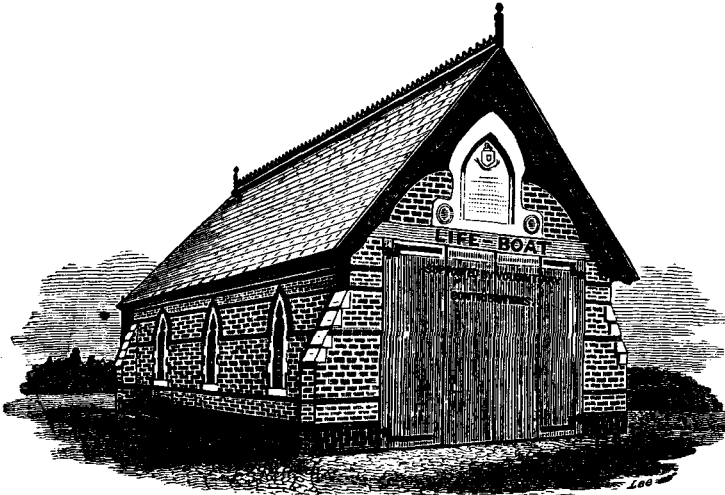

The carriage consists of a fore and main body. The latter is formed of a keelway, and of side or bilgeways attached to the keelway, and resting on the main axle, the boat's weight being entirely on the rollers of the keelway. Its leading characteristic is that, on the withdrawal of a forelock pin, the fore and main bodies can be detached from each other. The advantages of this arrangement are that, whilst on the one hand the weight of the boat when she is launched from the rear end forms an inclined plane by elevating the keelway and fore-carriage; on the other hand, to replace her on the carriage she can be hauled bow foremost up the fore end or longer incline, by disconnecting the fore-carriage, and letting the end of the keelway rest on the ground, thus forming an inclined plane up which the boat is easily drawn. The bilgeways are needed at the rear end, that the boat may be launched in an upright position, with her crew on board, but they are not required at the fore end of the carriage.

A very full equipment of stores is supplied to the Life-boats of the Institution—such as cork life-belts, anchors and cables, grapnels and lines, life-buoys, lanterns, rockets, and many other articles, together with portable or launching-skids.

THE LIFE-BOAT HOUSE.

The boats of the NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION, and all belonging to them, are kept in roomy and substantial boat-houses, under lock and key, in charge of paid coxswains, under the general superintendence of local honorary committees of residents in the several localities. Each boat has its appointed coxswain at a salary of 8*l.*, and an assistant at 2*l.* a year. The crew consists, in addition, of a bowman, and as many boatmen as the boat pulls oars. The members of the volunteer crews are registered, and wherever practicable, at least double the number of men required are entered on the register. Such men are mostly resident boatmen, fishermen, or Coastguardmen. On every occasion of going afloat to save life, the coxswain and each of the crew receive alike from the funds of the Institution (whether successful or not) 10*s.*, if by day, and 1*l.*, if by night; and 4*s.* each for every time of going afloat for exercise.

A reward of 7*s.* is given to the man who first brings intelligence of a wreck at such a distance along the coast as not to be in sight of the Coastguard Station or other look-out.

A flag hoisted by day, and the firing of a carronade (or other alarm signal) by night, are the well-known signals for calling the crew together.

On boarding wrecks, the preservation of life is the sole consideration. Should any goods or merchandise be brought into the Life-boat, contrary to the coxswain's remonstrance, he is authorised to throw them overboard.

The expense of a Life-boat Station averages 1,000*l.*, and is made up as follows:—

Life-boat and her equipment, including Life-belts for the Crew,
Skids, and Transporting-carriage	£650
Boat-house (average cost)	350

Such is a brief summary of the chief of the Regulations under which the Life-boats are worked. How faithfully and with what result they are carried out let the journals of each Life-boat Station and the annals of the Institution tell.

The NATIONAL LIFE-BOAT INSTITUTION has now 271 Life-boats under its charge. Every one of these has been specially presented to it, and they save every year from 600 to 700 shipwrecked sailors. Altogether, the Institution has contributed to the saving of 27,603 lives.

Despite, however, this fleet of 271 Life-boats, and of 30 others locally provided and supported, and despite the numerous rocket and mortar stations on our coast, there remains the melancholy fact that an average of 700 lives are lost annually on and around our own shores alone, proclaiming solemnly, though silently, that, for humanity's sake, and for the national credit, no exertions should be spared in providing every possible means for the conveyance of succour to the shipwrecked.

The Institution needs a permanent income of about 40,000*l.* to maintain its great Life-saving Fleet; and the Committee feel assured that it will never lack it so long as it maintains its boats in the state of thorough efficiency that they are in at the present time, and manned as they are on every emergency by as fearless and noble a class of men as ever our Nelsons and Collingwoods led to battle to uphold our country's honour and glory.

The Royal National Life-boat Institution

Is prepared to establish and maintain a Life-boat Station on any part of the coast of the United Kingdom where it can be shown, from previous disasters, that a Life-boat is required. It is requisite that there should be a sufficient number of men (fishermen, or others accustomed to the management of boats at sea) to man the Life-boat, and a Committee formed from the residents in the neighbourhood to superintend the Station and obtain such small Annual Subscriptions as may contribute towards a portion of the expense of the Life-boat Station.

Communications may be addressed to

THE SECRETARY OF THE INSTITUTION,

14 JOHN STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON, W.C.

Royal National Life-boat Institution.

DIRECTIONS FOR RESTORING THE APPARENTLY DROWNED.

THE leading principles of the following Directions for the Restoration of the apparently Dead from Drowning are founded on those of the late DR. MARSHALL HALL, combined with those of DR. H. R. SILVESTER, and are the result of extensive inquiries which were made by the Institution in 1863-4 amongst Medical Men, Medical Bodies, and Coroners throughout the United Kingdom. These Directions have been extensively circulated by the INSTITUTION throughout the United Kingdom and in the Colonies. They are also in use in Her Majesty's Fleet; in the Coast-guard Service; at all the Stations of the British Army at home and abroad; in the Light Houses and Vessels of the Corporation of the Trinity House; the Metropolitan and Provincial Police Forces; the Metropolitan School Board Schools; and the St. John Ambulance Association.

I.

Send immediately for medical assistance, blankets, and dry clothing, but proceed to treat the Patient instantly on the spot, in the open air, with the face downward, whether on shore or afloat; exposing the face, neck, and chest to the wind, except in severe weather, and removing all tight clothing from the neck and chest, especially the braces.

The points to be aimed at are—first and immediately, the RESTORATION OF BREATHING; and secondly, after breathing is restored, the PROMOTION OF WARMTH AND CIRCULATION.

The efforts to restore Breathing must be commenced immediately and energetically, and persevered in for one or two hours, or until a medical man has pronounced that life is extinct. Efforts to promote Warmth and Circulation, beyond removing the wet clothes, and drying the skin, must not be made until the first appearance of natural breathing; for if circulation of the blood be induced before breathing has recommenced, the restoration to life will be endangered.

II.—TO RESTORE BREATHING.

TO CLEAR THE THROAT.—Place the patient on the floor or ground, with the face downwards, and one of the arms under the forehead, in which position all fluids will more readily escape by the mouth, and the tongue itself will fall forward, leaving the entrance into the windpipe free. Assist this operation by wiping and cleansing the mouth.

If satisfactory breathing commences, use the treatment described below to promote Warmth. If there be only slight breathing—or no breathing—or if the breathing fail, then—

TO EXCITE BREATHING.—Turn the patient well and instantly on the side, supporting the head, and—

1.—INSPIRATION.

Excite the nostrils with snuff, hartshorn, and smelting salts, or tickle the throat with a feather, &c., if they are at hand. Rub the chest and face warm, and dash cold water, or cold and hot water alternately on them. If there be no success, lose not a moment, but instantly—

TO IMITATE BREATHING—Replace the patient on the face, raising and supporting the chest well on a folded coat or other article of dress.

Turn the body very gently on the side and a little beyond, and then briskly on the face, back again, repeating these measures cautiously, efficiently, and perseveringly, about fifteen times in the minute, or once every four or five seconds, occasionally varying the side.

[By placing the patient on the chest, the weight of the body forces the air out; when turned on the side, this pressure is removed, and air enters the chest.]

On each occasion that the body is replaced on the face, make uniform but efficient pressure with brisk movement, on the back between and below the shoulder-blades or bones on each side, removing the pressure immediately before turning the body on the side.

During the whole of the operations let one person attend solely to the movements of the head and of the arm placed under it.

[The first measure increases the expiration—the second commences inspiration.]

** The Result is Respiration or Natural Breathing;—and if not too late, Life,

2.—EXPIRATION.

The foregoing two illustrations show the position of the Body during the employment of Dr. Marshall Hall's Method of Inducing Respiration.

Whilst the above operations are being proceeded with, dry the hands and feet, and as soon as dry clothing or blankets can be procured, strip the body, and cover or gradually reclothe it, but taking care not to interfere with the efforts to restore breathing.

III.

Should these efforts not prove successful in the course of from two to five minutes, proceed to imitate breathing by Dr. SILVESTER'S method, as follows:—

Place the patient on the back on a flat surface, inclined a little upwards from the feet; raise and support the head and shoulders on a small firm cushion or folded article of dress placed under the shoulder-blades.

Draw forward the patient's tongue, and keep it projecting beyond the lips; an elastic band over the tongue and under the chin will answer this purpose, or a piece of string or tape may be tied round them, or by raising the lower jaw, the teeth may be made to retain the tongue in that position. Remove all tight clothing from about the neck and chest, especially the braces.

To IMITATE THE MOVEMENTS OF BREATHING.—Standing at the patient's head, grasp the arms just above the elbows, and draw the arms gently and steadily upwards above the head, and keep them stretched upwards for two seconds. (By this means air is drawn into the lungs.) Then turn down the patient's arms, and press them gently and firmly for two seconds against the sides of the chest. (By this means air is pressed out of the lungs.)

Repeat these measures alternately, deliberately, and perseveringly, about fifteen times in a minute, until a spontaneous effort to respire is perceived, immediately upon which cease to imitate the movements of breathing, and proceed to INDUCE CIRCULATION AND WARMTH.

IV.—TREATMENT AFTER NATURAL BREATHING HAS BEEN RESTORED.

To PROMOTE WARMTH AND CIRCULATION.—Commence rubbing the limbs upwards, with firm grasping pressure and energy, using handkerchiefs, flannels, &c. [By this measure the blood is propelled along the veins towards the heart.]

The friction must be continued under the blanket or over the dry clothing.

Promote the warmth of the body by the application of hot flannels, bottles, or bladders of hot water, heated bricks, &c., to the pit of the stomach, the arm-pits, between the thighs, and to the soles of the feet.

If the patient has been carried to a house after respiration has been restored, be careful to let the air play freely about the room.

On the restoration of life, a teaspoonful of warm water should be given; and then, if the power of swallowing have returned, small quantities of wine, warm brandy-and-water, or coffee should be administered. The patient should be kept in bed, and a disposition to sleep encouraged.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS.

The above treatment should be persevered in for some hours, as it is an erroneous opinion that persons are irrecoverable because life does not soon make its appearance, persons having been restored after persevering for many hours.

APPEARANCES WHICH GENERALLY ACCOMPANY DEATH.

Breathing and the heart's action cease entirely; the eyelids are generally half closed; the pupils dilated; the tongue approaches to the under edges of the lips, and these, as well as the nostrils, are covered with a frothy mucus. Coldness and pallor of surface increase.

CAUTIONS.

Prevent unnecessary crowding of persons round the body, especially if in an apartment.

Avoid rough usage, and do not allow the body to remain on the back unless the tongue is secured.

Under no circumstances hold the body up by the feet.

On no account place the body in a warm bath unless under medical direction, and even then it should only be employed as a momentary excitant.

By order of the Committee.
